Borough May Enact Temporary Rent Control at Monday Meeting

Temporary rent control in the Borough will go into effect after May 29 if Borough Council passes an ordinance introduced at a special session Monday night.

Public hearing, to which all landlords, tenants and interested citizens are invited, will be held Tuesday, May 29 at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. That's a special meeting, too, and only the new rent control regulation will be on the agenda — planty of time, therefore, to talk and discuss.

The reason for the temporary measure — it will expire September 1 — is that some landlords, according to Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, have been increasing rents, in anticipation of some kind of permanent rent control.

"Council has contributed to this situation, I'm afraid, by publicly discussing the question of rent control," conceded Councilman Robert Powell at Monday's meeting, and that's the reason for the fast action.

The ordinance, if it passes May 29, doesn't stop landlords from levying increases. But it does require them to put the increase into a bank account for the tenant, to be held in escrow. The landlord must notify the tenant of each bank deposit.

If Council passes a permanent rent control ordinance after September 1, the tenant will get his money back plus 3 percent interest, under terms of the permanent ordinance. If Council doesn't pass a control ordinance, the landlord will get the money back.

Mr. Powell told the audience of about 25 people, assembled in the downstairs lounge at Borough Hall, that four tenants and one landlord had told him about "anticipatory" rent increases either made already, or in the works.

Councilman Martin P. Lombardo reported ten calls from tenants, chiefly elderly individuals, whose rents had been raised.

"If you're going to have a moratorium on rents, how about a moratorium on taxes, too?" demanded Mrs. Kathleen Edwards, who told Council she was a landlord. "I'd suggest a five-year moratorium."

It was a largely a landlords' evening. Only three tenants spoke, although at one point Alfred Kahn, property manager who manages the rental units owned by his father Benjamin Kahn, said, "All I hear is 'tenants, tenants, tenants'."

Landlords chided Council for not having named any landlords to the seven-member Housing Advisory Committee. The group, appointed to study possible rent control, recommended the temporary ordinance as a holding action until more facts are in hand.

Mr. Lombardo assured the audience that the advisory committee itself had asked for landlord representation, and Mayor Cawley said Tuesday that he plans to name one and probably two, landlords to the group.

Early in the meeting — it wasn't technically a public hearing, but it sounded like one — lawyer Garrett Heher rose, identified himself as representative of the University,

More Drug Use After 'IAP'? Yes, for Some

"It helped a little — it was worth the time," shrugged about half the young people who bothered to reply to a questionnaire about the program at the Institute for Applied Psychotherapy, but the questionnaire also revealed that, whereas 14 youths mentioned using marijuana before participation in IAP, 20 said they used it after.

Hashish was used "pre-IAP" by 7 students, but that number increased to 10 "post-IAP." On the other hand, no one at all mentioned using heroin after IAP participation, whereas three said they used it before IAP.

Alcohol was mentioned as a post-IAP drug by four students; only two said they used it in pre-IAP days. Under the heading "assorted other; uppers, downers, soppers, etc.", an overwhelming 14 are recorded in the "post-IAP" category, whereas only three used these drugs before IAP.

Use of LSD was down, after IAP participation: it was used by four students "before" and only one "after."

To Close August 31. The Institute for Applied Psychotherapy will close August 31, following the recommendation of the Intergovernmental Drug Committee.

As part of its evaluation of IAP, the Drug Committee sent an 18-item questionnaire to 69 former IAP members who had been in the program for at least two weeks during 1971 and 1972. Only 33 questionnaires were returned and of these, the IDC said, only 28 were useful for analysis.

"This relatively low return could in itself be interpreted as an indication of a less-than-enthusiastic attitude on the part of former IAP members," the Drug Committee observed.

The chief thing the Drug Committee wnted to find out through its questionnaire, was how much a change IAP had brought about in the lives of students who were in its program.

Getting along "with friends your own age" was the area in which there was the most significant change, the survey revealed.

The survey also disclosed that after participating in the IAP program, students had less trouble with the police. Of the students who answered the questions, 74.1 percent had had police trouble before they signed on with IAP and only 25.9 found themselves in difficulty afterwards.

Progress Noted. By examining all the questions in the survey, the Drug Committee found that students who say they use drugs less frequently than they did also think they are adjusting better in school, getting along better with their families, and are in fewer difficulties with the police.

The Drug Committee, pointing out the small sample size of the questionnaire and the low proportion of returns, warns that conclusions about IAP's effectiveness, based on this questionnaire "can be viewed as very tenuous."

The Committee concludes, "it should be kept in mind that the reported changes (or lack of change) may have had little to do with participation in the IAP program."

FOR TRAFFIC CONTROL

In Shopping Center. Township police control over traffic inside the Princeton Shopping Center will be established through an ordinance that may be introduced next Monday. If it hasn't been legally smoothed out by then, it will be introduced June 4.

For the first time, if the ordinance is passed, Township police will have control over moving traffic inside the Center, and the power to give out tickets for violations.

The ordinance provides chiefly for sharply painted markings throughout the area, delineating parking stalls, defining circulation areas with double lines outside and a single line in the middle, providing an abundance of directional arrows, installing "no parking" signs against buildings, widening the circulation lines to give more room for two-way traffic and setting up clear "one-way" lanes.

The ordinance will also "seal off the narrow gateway near the Acme market and an adjoining flower shop, which now forbids use as a way of entering the Center's western traffic pattern.

A hoped-for traffic light at North Harrison and Valley has only "Number Two" priority under the state's "TOPICS" traffic program, and Administrator Joseph R. Nini has been prodding state officials to move the light to "Number One."

In other traffic matters Monday night, Committee will enact an emergency resolution banning parking on both sides of Alexander from West Drive to a point 1,100 feet north, and on the south side of Basin Street, the former Alexander Street. Traffic to the new restaurant has made the action necessary, Township police say.

ZONERS TO HEAR PLANS

For Offices. That two-story pair of office buildings, designed for the corner of North Harrison and Valley, will be before the Township Zoning Board this Thursday at 8 p.m., having already been knocked down by the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

At its May 1 meeting, the Planning Board declined to recommend that Zoning Board and Township Committee grant the office building a use variance. They would be in a retail dental zone.

The Zoning Board isn't legally bound by the Planning Board's adverse reaction, and could decide to recommend that Township Committee grant the variance.

The buildings would be built by Dr. Arnold J. Hirtsch and Dr. Robert Albahary. The planners suggested that they might soften their attitude if the developers could find a way to incorporate low or middle-income housing in the buildings.

Public Housing Moves Forward Again

The "Town Site" 100-unit public housing project seems to be back on its slow moving track.

The "major impact" environmental report [sic] necessary, ruled Richard Fishbough, Director of Operations for the Camden office of the Housing and Urban Development agency (HUD) after he inspected the Mt. Lucas site last week.

Princeton opponents of the project, in a delaying tactic, had persuaded HUD. Last month that such a report, described by HUD as a "full impact" report, was necessary. Mr. Fishbough explained this week that the routine environmental study made by HUD of all projects, is the same as the "full impact" study except that the "full impact" report is sent further along the HUD line — to New York offices — eventually to Washington. Data are the same, he said.

HUD's Camden office will continue its routine environmental study of the Princeton project, he continued, but he pointed to the New Jersey sewer moratorium imposed on Princeton and added, "The monkey is on the state's back, now. We can do our work right up to the point of funding, but the state has locked us in with this sewer thing."

Commenting on the opposition of some Princeton neighbors of the project, Mr. Fishbough said "if a project meets all our criteria, how can we stop it just because somebody doesn't want it? This project originated in the Princeton community. Opponents should talk to municipal officials — don't bang the Federal government over the head."

Borough Rent Control

the Seminary and Westminster Choir College, and asked what about dorms and faculty housing?

"All three of these institutions operate their housing completely on a non-profit basis," Mr. Heher declared. "University and Seminary already have budgets incorporating rent increases — would these be allowed?"

Faculty rent increases of eight percent start July 1, but higher student dormitory rates won't apply until the September 1 deadline of the ordinance.

"It's not good policy to exempt one category of tenant simply because of the landlord," Mr. Powell observed. "If commercial landlords could make out a case that they are losing and make less money than the University."

The next day, Mayor Cawley told his press conference that Council isn't inclined to amend the ordinance for the three institutions, and in fact doesn't want to amend it in any major way because that would delay passage. The measure, he warned, "could attract litigation as we want to be conservative about changes."

September 1 Opposed. Mrs. Willie Mae Taddlock, another landlord, protested the September 1 deadline and Council's announcement that it might not pass a permanent rent control ordinance to supersede this one.

"Anything temporary has a way of becoming permanent," she warned. "Landlords are out of town in August, but tenants can't afford to be and won't pass it while landlords are away."

"A landlord never has any address," she commented. "A tenant can say 'much' and you'll stick the landlord like a pig!"

Mr. Kahn outlined in detail the situation of a landlord who is making major capital improvements in a rental unit. He described an agreement with one of his tenants for whom Mr. Kahn is installing a new kitchen and the tenant is to pay $15 more a month rent. "This represents the one and one-half percent capital improvement increase allowed by Federal rule," he told Council. "Would he be allowed to impose it?"

"Unfair Interest." Council man Joseph P. Moore retorted that the tenant was "paying interest on what he doesn't need" but Mayor Cawley acknowledged that capital improvements are a problem. If the Borough decides to pass a permanent ordinance, he said, the problem would have to be solved. Most rent control ordinances consider such things as increased taxes, maintenance costs and capital improvements, Mr. Powell said. A Palmer Square tenant told Council she had agreed to sign a three year lease July 31 with increased rent, but the landlord wanted her to sign now. Mayor Cawley explained that Palmer Square would have to put the money in escrow pending a decision about a permanent ordinance.

"Even if you sign the lease before we pass this ordinance," he told her, "you'll get your increase back, if we pass a permanent ordinance and the amount of your increase is greater than a permanent ordinance allows."

When Mrs. Edwards referred to "exorbitant" increases of which she was already aware, the mayor said the ordinance could not be retroactive.

What constitutes a "justifiable" increase is still under study, Mr. Powell explained frequently. A random sample of tenants—not merely people who have complained—is now under way and will include people from all ten of the Borough's voting districts, he said. The Housing Advisory Committee has the names of more than 120 landlords, who will be interviewed also.

An Open Mind. To a charge that Council had already made up its mind, regardless of citizen comment, Council member Barbara Sigmund retorted, "I have not yet made up in my mind how I will vote May 29!"

She made a plea for tolerance and an end to bitterness between landlord and tenant. She pointed to the acute shortage of modestly-priced rental units, and the various state and national rulings that keep more from being built.

"How shall we preserve our present stock, is the question," she said. "If we don't, Princeton will become exclusively an upper middle income town with a few faculty ghettos. I can't live with this, and I don't think landlords want it, either."

Mr. Kahn suggested that one way of "preserving the stock" would be to ease zoning regulations so that large houses could be converted to several units. The Housing Committee is considering such a question, Mayor Cawley replied.

Voluntary Rent Freeze?

Borough landlords have been asked to impose a voluntary rent freeze on themselves for the period between now and September 1.

Toward the end of Monday night's rent dialogue in Borough Hall, Council member Barbara Sigmund asked for the voluntary control measure. Landlords in the audience did not reply, one way or the other.

Mrs. Sigmund said that real estate agents to whom she had talked agreed with her proposal. She suggested it would "provide a breathing space instead of fanning fires."

First Presbyterian, St. Andrew's to Merge as Nassau Presbyterian

Princeton soon will have a new church. By overwhelmingly favorable votes taken in the two congregations last Sunday First Presbyterian and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches adopted a convenant of union that will make real an idea that has been bounced back and forth across Nassau Street since 1896: merger of the two churches, located practically right across the street from each other, into one unified body.

The new name will be Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Public ceremonies marking the union will be Sunday, June 24. Details were not immediately completed.

The final approval at First church came by a margin of 275-44. At St. Andrew's the vote was 108-14. So ended a lengthy and vigorous round of merger discussions that began last November, and until this March also included Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

Witherspoon voted at that time to discontinue the talks, although it will continue to discuss along with Nassau Presbyterian opportunities for joint action in the areas of Christian education and social outreach.

Quick Action. Five elders from each of the Nassau Street churches continued their discussions after Witherspoon pulled out. Completion of the merger was finally achieved in what most felt was a surprisingly short time.

"Other churches trying this have taken much longer," said Mrs. Ralph Bloom, one of the elders from St. Andrew's. "We just worked hard at it several nights a week. The positive response of the congregations was very gratifying," she said.

Merger was considered previously in 1896, 1905 and 1962. St. Andrew's, then known as Second Presbyterian, approved the 1962 plan; First church rejected it. One problem then was that each church had a senior minister toward whom the two congregations were separately drawn.

For that reason, the timing of these merger talks was particularly favorable. First Presbyterian's senior pastor, the Rev. Donald M. Meisel, accepted a call to a Minneapolis church last fall. St. Andrew's senior pastor, F. Hugh Liffiton, had died in March, 1972.

Neither church now has a senior minister. Finding one will be in the first order of business for Nassau Presbyterian.

Name Change. The new church expects to make use of both existing sanctuaries, and the full facilities of both church plants. The church sessions, boards of trustees, and staffs will be merged into single units. Other details of the new church's operations are still being considered by committees formed during the merger discussions.

Determining a name for the new church was one duty of the Joint Conference Committee on Union, the group of 10 elders chaired by Dean Arthur Adams of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

The committee sought suggestions before it drew up a provisional covenant for the congregations to discuss. It received none and so tentatively called the new church "St. Andrew's First Presbyterian" in the proposal. At that point comments came in a flood.

"It sounded makeshift. One person said he didn't like the idea of a hyphenated congregation," Mrs. Bloom said. "People wanted something brand new, reflecting the idea that this was to be a new church."

Historical Search. Mrs. Bloom felt that First Presbyterian was an historically significant name, dating back to the formation of that church in colonial times, and that it should be included in the new name. Her reservations were allayed, however, when a church historian discovered that the original name was the Presbyterian Congregation of Princeton.

Should the time come when Witherspoon considers merger with Nassau, Mrs. Bloom said, "it might be appropriate to return to Presbyterian Congregation."

The idea of Nassau Presbyterian came from Mrs. Lefferts Loetscher, a member of First church. "Nassau" is not meant to refer simply to the street location of the church, but rather to the fact that Presbyterian Church in Princeton was organized when the president of the College of New Jersey called a meeting in the chapel of Nassau Hall.

Princeton's Presbyterians have cooperated before in a number of ventures: the Princeton Presbyterian Commission, common activities of the women's groups, and joint efforts by the church and society commissions of the three churches.

CAR BADLY DAMAGED

By Vandals. A 1973 car owned by Robert W. Winzola, 169 Witherspoon Street, was extensively damaged by vandals Sunday while it was parked in the lot at Princeton Motor Parts, 190 Witherspoon, between 1 and 8:50 a.m. Lt. Theodore Lewis reported that the front and rear seats had been slashed, the interior headliner cut, sugar put in the gas tank and a brick thrown against the rear window. In addition, a chemical was poured over the seats, changing their color, he said.

"Someone is trying to rebuild a Mercedes," commented Lt. Lewis, after he reported the stripping of a second car of that make in the past two weeks.

Taken from a 1969 Mercedes owned by Miss Martha Jendrich of 25 Palmer Square between May 1 and 10 were two headlight assemblies, a hub cap and a side molding from the left front fender. Their value, $127.50. A rear panel and wiper blade were also damaged, police said.

DOCTOR'S WALLET TAKEN

At Medical Center. While Dr. John C. Freda was treating a patient in the emergency room at Princeton Medical Center Sunday morning at 7:05 someone took his wallet containing $85.

Dr. Freda, on the staff of the Center's Department of Emergency Service, told police that he had left his wallet and gold watch lying on a desk in the doctors' lounge of the emergency section. When he returned, they were missing.

The pinsky wallet was recovered at 8:35 that morning in front of 254 Witherspoon Street.

$110 in Tapes Stolen. More than 50 stereo tapes and a collection of classical records with a combined value of $110 were stolen from 28 West Hall at Westminster Choir College.

The owners, John Green and Stephen Emery, placed the theft between 6 Sunday night and 3:45 Monday afternoon.

Police said that a wire screen had been removed from a window to gain entry to the room. Pfc. Ronald Holliday investigated.

Last week, Ida Hillman of 28 Station Drive, Princeton Junction, parked at Motor Parts on Witherspoon Street to discuss the sale of her car.

While she was talking, someone removed her purse from the right front seat containing $291 and a man's ring with a blue sapphire and diamond chips worth $125. Police said that she had left the window down.

A nickel-plated flute valued at $160 was stolen last week from a locked music room at Princeton High School.

Police identified the owner as Miss Alita Blanc, 417 Walnut Lane. It was the second musical instrument taken from the high school in the past two weeks.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Three Cars Totaled. Two women drivers were hurt and three cars were totally demolished in an accident Saturday morning on Lawrenceville Road near Quaker Road.

Ruth E. Billups, 58, of Trenton, sustained injuries to the head, multiple contusions and abrasions and lacerations of the mouth. She was admitted to Princeton Medical Center.

Catherine Gibbs, 56, of Trenton, suffered multiple lacerations of the face and mouth, a fractured wrist and jaw. Both were transported to the Medical Center by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

The other driver was Richard J. Finch, 24, of Mercerville. There were no police charges.

According to Pfc. Olindo Carnevale, the Gibbs car, traveling on Lawrenceville Road, swerved into the opposite lane and struck the Billups car. It bounced off, struck the Finch car on the left side, pushing it into a third, continued on and came to rest 181 feet from the point of impact.

Police said that Mrs. Gibbs, when she discovered her car had no brakes, began blowing her horn. She swerved left to try to avoid hitting a car in front of her and in so doing struck the Billups car. Pfc. Carnevale noted in his report that the Gibbs car was too badly damaged to tell whether its brakes were inoperative or not.

Cyclist Hurt. Christopher R. Blake Jr., of Lawrenceville, received contusions and abrasions of the forehead last week when he ran into the rear of a car turning into the Cannon Club drive on Prospect Avenue. He was treated at the Medical Center and released.

Township police said that the youth apparently did not see the car turning right and skidded into the rear of it. There were no charges.

Police identified the driver as Daryal Batbhoy of Lawrence Apartments.

Meanwhile, the Stony Brook Authority has received the environmental impact study from the firm of Metcalf and Eddy, and will hold public hearing on it Thursday, June 14 at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. A copy of the document is available for examination in Borough Hall.

JUVENILE REPORT

Shoplifting, Robbery, Fighting. Princeton juveniles were arrested for shoplifting and robbery last week, while others escaped after robbing and assaulting two teenage girls.

A 16 year old Borough youth was charged with shoplifting a $22 jacket from Bamberger's last week in the Princeton Shopping Center. Mrs. Constance Ware of the store's security department observed the youth taking the jacket from the men's department.

Police, in searching him found a small quantity of marijuana in his possession under his pillow and a partially smoked marijuana cigarette. He was later released in custody of his mother after being processed by the Township juvenile officer.

Two Township youths, 16 and 17, have been charged with breaking and entering and larceny at the home of Samuel B. Tremain, 60 McCosh Circle.

The youths allegedly stole a total of $50 in cash and coins from two children's bedrooms. There were no signs of forced entry, and police believe they entered by way of an unlocked front door.

Both were arrested by Township police and placed in the Mercer County Youth House to await action by a County Juvenile Court.

The 16-year old was also charged with possession of stolen property when he was found to have in his possession the [illegible] of a car stolen last Sunday morning at 3 a.m. from A[illegible] Hall Road.

The car was recovered a few days later by police in the Hilltop Apartments [illegible] police and was [illegible] with the initials P.A.C. on the [illegible] which he did not belong to the owner.

Two Girls Assaulted. Two [illegible] were assaulted by [illegible] as they were [illegible] Witherspoon Street [illegible] Princeton.

[illegible] reported to police that a man [illegible] asked them for directions. When they approached his car, he grabbed one of the girls and pulled her into the car. The other girl ran away.

The girl who was pulled into the car was struck in the face by the man, who then drove off. The girl who ran away reported the following story from the girl's mother.

As the two were walking on Witherspoon, several girls came out of the Youth Center [illegible], the street and asked for money. When the older girl said they didn't have any, they allegedly pushed her to the sidewalk, punched her and struck her with an umbrella. Then they grabbed the victim's purse and ran off. The 18-year old girl received a black eye and bruises about the face and body.

School Fight. Det. Timothy Hunzing is investigating a fight between two 17-year old students Friday morning during a physical class at Princeton High School.

Police said one was struck in the eye and taken to the Medical Center by his parents for treatment. On Monday, one was arrested by police, charged with assault and later released to his parents. A[illegible] principal George Petrillo reported the fight to police.

PROTEST SCHEDULED

Against Montgomery Zoning. The Montgomery Citizens Committee, organized to protest a variance awarded to Polycel Corp., will sponsor a public information meeting this Thursday at 8 at the Rocky Hill branch of the First National Bank of Central Jersey, Route 518, Rocky Hill.

Polycel was granted a variance by the Board of Adjustment and the Township Committee to relocate its factory from Route 206 near the Montgomery Shopping Center to Route 206 near Bridgepoint Road. The new location is presently zoned for agriculture, engineering, research and office (AERO).

In the new Township Master Plan, adopted by the Planning Board, the area will become residential. The new zoning ordinance to implement the Master Plan is now being prepared by the Planning Board.

The Montgomery Citizens Committee, a non-partisan group of residents of all areas in the Township, contends that Polycel should not be allowed to move into this neighborhood, but should relocate to the area in Montgomery which is zoned to accept manufacturing. All Montgomery residents are invited to attend and are invited to join the Montgomery Citizens Committee.

Environmental Bills Face Second Vote

"D" Day for New Jersey environmentalists is this Monday, the date of a special session of the N. J. Legislature called by Gov. Cahill to reconsider three major pieces of environmental legislation.

These bills are A827, which established an ocean sanctuary and provides for its protection; A1429, which bars most construction in the vicinity of the N. J. coastline without the approval of the Dept. of Environmental Protection; and A2003, which prohibits the construction of a deepwater petroleum port adjacent to the State coast.

These three bills, all of which were passed by the Assembly earlier in the year by huge margins, the first one unanimously, were defeated in the Senate on April 26. Republican William E. Schluter (District 6A) voted against bills A827 and A2003, and in favor of A1429. Democrat Joseph P. Merlino (District 6B) also voted against those two bills and abstained on A1429.

In connection with the vote, the New Jersey chapter of the Sierra Club is urging environmentalists to "descend" on Trenton in unprecedented numbers.

Those wishing to attend the session are being offered carpool arrangements by the club. Car-pools will leave Princeton Shopping Center at 10:30 a.m., and leave Trenton probably by 4 p.m., depending on when the bills are voted on. Interested people should call the Sierra Club office, 924-3141.

Diane Graves, Conservation Chairman, says, "If you care about N. J.'s coast and N. J.'s general environment, you'll join us in Trenton for what promises to be an exciting, even historic, day."

Specific information on the bills, the State House, legislators, etc. will be available at the shopping center and at the State House main entrance.

"The opposition will be there in full force. Environmentally concerned citizens must be there, too," Mrs. Graves points out. For further information call Diane Graves, 924-3141.

Unanswered Question

Had a flood.
So why is "grass"
Spelled "M-U-D".

Excess rainfall would seem to be the answer. After a record-breaking year in 1972, the first four months of '73 are already 15 to 20% ahead in precipitation.

Showers, for example, are a possibility Thursday with a clearing trend due the realtor. Once again, the Man says, sunny and mild for the weekend and once again hope is high.

the West Windsor Community Association, one of the three West Windsor civic organizations which sponsor the Forums, emphasized the importance of Freeholder actions in the lives of West Windsorites. "Approximately 35 cents of every dollar we pay in taxes goes to the country," said Mr. Tagliaferri, "compared to a hunt 1 1 2 cents of which goes to the Township of West Windsor."

Mercer County has direct responsibility for bridges and culverts in the Township, and has many of the roads, and has a decisive voice in deciding where traffic lights should go. Through the County Board of Health and the County Planning Board, it has virtual veto power over proposed new construction.

The West Windsor Forums have been sponsored by the West Windsor Community Association. The West Windsor Lions Club and the West Windsor Unit of the League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area.

DR. FINCH TO RETIRE As University Secretary

Thomas H. Wright, Jr., for the past year University Counsel at Princeton University, will assume additional responsibilities when he becomes Secretary Designate of the University as of July 1.

He will subsequently succeed Dr. Jeremiah S. Finch as Secretary on July 1, 1974 while retaining the position of University Counsel. Dr. Finch will begin a year's leave of absence in the summer of 1974 before retiring after 39 years as a member of the University faculty and administration.

Among his added responsibilities, Mr. Wright will become Secretary of the Board of Trustees and of its Executive Committee. He will also serve as a link between the Board and other elements of the University community.

In announcing Mr. Wright's appointment, President William G. Bowen said, "We are extremely fortunate in having at Princeton a person of his abilities and attributes. His legal training and his sense of organizational relationships as well as his personal skills, will prove invaluable, I know, to the Trustees and to the residents University community."

A native of Lexington, Va., Mr. Wright is a graduate magna cum laude from Princeton in 1965 and earned his law degree cum laude from the Harvard Law School four years later. He was associated with the Washington, D.C. law firm of Covington and Burling from 1969 until 1969, when he joined The Ford Foundation as Assistant General Counsel. He was with the Foundation until moving to Princeton last July.

Dr. Finch, Professor of English, joined the Princeton faculty in 1936 after earning his master's and doctoral degrees at Cornell University where he was a member of the Class of 1931. He served as Dean of the College from 1955 until 1961 and has been Secretary of the University since 1966.

Active in a wide range of University affairs, he has been Chairman of the Committee on Examinations and Standing and is also a former Chairman of the University Committee on Athletics, among many other activities. Dr. Finch is well known in academic professional circles and for his work in the Princeton community.

His community activities have included the Vice Presidency of the Princeton Borough Board of Education and membership on the Board of the Princeton Day School.

"It is hard to find words to convey adequately how much Professor Finch has meant and continues to mean to the University," noted Dr. Bowen. "As Secretary he has served as a wise counsellor to Trustees, administrators, faculty, alumni and students. He owns a sense of concern for each individual, his own commitment to the purposes of the University, his quiet humor and in all he way are always evident. We are greatly in his debt."

SCHLUTER CALLS MEETING To Discuss Environmental Bills

A public meeting to discuss various aspects of the crucial environmental bills which the New Jersey Senate will consider for a second time Monday has been called for Thursday night at 8 by State Sen. William E. Schluter. It will be held at the YM-YWCA, Avalon Place.

The Senate rejected passage of the bills late in April after their passage by the Assembly, but Gov. Cahill is seeking their approval and has recommended the Senate for a vote on Monday. A panel of environmentalists will be present at Thursday's meeting.

IMPASSE REACHED In West Windsor, Teachers

In the West Windsor - Plains Union system have voted to take the legal "impasse" route in contract negotiations with the school board. The vote had unanimous support.

The negotiations committee of the West Windsor - Plains Union Education Association says it has been "unable to reach agreement in any area of negotiations with the Board of Education."

The committee has declared that it was "frustrated" by cancelled meetings and "by the board's reluctance to reschedule meetings promptly."

Five negotiating sessions have been held since January 1, the teachers say. Under impasse, an impartial negotiator is called in, usually for

PRINCETON REGIONAL SCHOOL AGENDA

The regular May meeting of the Princeton Regional School Board will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Community Park School. The agenda:

- Re-naming schools after the summer Middle School switch. School names will be Community Park School, Witherspoon Middle School, Valley Road Building.
- Discussion and possible adoption of a broad policy related to public disclosure of personnel matters. This replaces a proposed policy on release of student and staff names, tabled at the last meeting. That particular suggestion won't be re-introduced, according to Superintendent Philip E. McPherson.
- Progress report from Dr. McPherson on staff retention. He told a press conference this week that staff attrition, through maternity leaves and so on, means he will not have to draw on a contingency fund to retain staff.
- The board may reach a decision on what role to play in a high school equivalency program for adults. It has been operated by the Princeton Adult School.
- Art, Home Economics and Music may be combined into an "Applied Arts — Creative Arts" department at the high school, and the board will act on this recommendation.
- The board will accept International Harvester's $17,000 bid to replace a 1965 (63,000 miles) and a 1967 (68,000) school buses.
- Eight candidates are being interviewed for the high school principal's job. Dr. McPherson will report. Two are already staff members of the Princeton system.

IT WAS "219-188" DAY

Congressional Vote Hailed. Volunteers at the Princeton Peace Center proclaimed "Happy 219-188 Day" to all who worked and stopped in at the Center on Friday.

According to Phyllis Suber, a member of the group's legislative watchdog committee, "We hung a large sign in our office to remind people that the House of Representatives voted 219-188 to block the use of defense funds for the continued bombing of Cambodia. It's the first time in six years that the House has supported an end-the-war amendment and we're pleased at this turn of events."

This is the first of several anti-war bills or amendments that will come before Congress during the next few weeks, the Center points out. The Case-Church amendment, prohibiting the use of appropriated funds for any military involvement in Indochina without Congressional approval, will come up for a vote in the Senate by early June.

The Peace Center at 163 Nassau Street, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, and other groups have been distributing literature giving background information on the bombing in Cambodia and urging citizens to write their Congressmen about this issue. Additional information is available at the Center for those who wish it.

PTA FAIR SATURDAY

In Princeton Junction. The West Windsor-Plainsboro PTA will sponsor a "Togetherness Fair" Saturday from 11 to 4 at the Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction. The PTA also will present the Forest Friends puppets in the Transitional Room of the school that same day, from 11:30-12:15. The puppet show is produced by Sharon Wise, Eileen Stewart and Barbara Van Horn, and is recommended for a younger audience.

Rain date for the fair is Sunday. The puppet show will remain Saturday.

PDS FAIR FUNDS HELP

To Match Grant. Net proceeds of the Princeton Day School Fair, held last Saturday, will enable the school to complete its effort to match a $50,000 foundation grant for scholarship endowment funds, Headmaster Douglas O. McClure has announced.

The grant, made a year ago by the Edward E. Ford Foundation of New York promised a dollar for dollar match, up to $50,000, of gifts to the scholarship fund.

The fair, an annual event sponsored by the Parent Association, grossed over $9,000 according to Mrs. William F. Murdoch, chairman. The net proceeds will more than match the balance needed to meet the Ford Foundation challenge, which, in effect, adds $100,000 to the school's scholarship fund.

CHURCH PLANS SHOW

Featuring Antiques, Crafts. The United Methodist Church in the center of Cranbury, will sponsor an antique show from 10 to 5 on Saturday, May 19, featuring at least 20 reputable antiques dealers displaying and selling their collections.

Interesting craft demonstrations will be going on at the same time, including painting on velvet; quilting and tinsel paintings; original works of art in leaded glass; leather clothing and pillows; patchwork pillows done with a radar stitch; and tramondo, the art of stuffed quilting.

The snack bar with sandwiches, finger desserts, and hot and cold beverages will be open through the day under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Haight and Mrs. Jean Campion. Homemade gingerbread, bread, pies, cakes, and cookies will be for sale at the bake sale directed by Mrs. Ethel Stahl.

The Women's Society of the Methodist Church is sponsoring this event and will offer free babysitting to the public for children under 10 for $1 donation will be collected at the door.

FOUR-DAY PROGRAM SET

For Seminary Commencement. Princeton Theological Seminary's 161st graduation ceremonies will extend over a four-day period from May 27-30, President James I. McCord has announced.

The Baccalaureate Service, to be held in the First Presbyterian Church at 4 on Sunday, May 27, will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. John W. Meister, Director of the Council of Theological Seminaries of the United Presbyterian Church. No activities are scheduled for Monday, when Memorial Day is observed.

Tuesday's Alumni Day program is this year focused on "Worship as Celebration." Returning graduates and their wives or husbands will attend a seminar in Miller Chapel on "Criteria for Christian Worship," conducted by the Rev. Dr. Arlo D. Duba, Director of Admissions. The Service of Remembrance will be led by the Rev. George L. Hunt, President of the Alumni Association; the Rev. Dr. George E. Sweazey, Francis Landey Patton Professor of Homiletics, will preach.

A Special Invitation

I would like you to share in an extraordinary experience I had on May 8th when I interviewed my classmate, Col. Hervey Stockman '44, Princeton University's only POW. After almost 6 years in the Hanoi area, he returned to be honored quietly by Princeton town and gown and he graciously agreed to let me ask him many questions about his prison treatment, how the POW's got information from the outside world, what they thought of the eruptive events back home, what he found different about the United States when he returned.

His wife, like many who did not know for years at a time if her husband was alive, was in the studio and shared in this 65 minute program which resulted in a wide range of human emotions. Whatever your viewpoints about the war, I know you will find this a memorable listening experience.

For your convenience we have scheduled GOODBYE HANOI HILTON on both our stations at different starting times this Thursday evening

Sincerely,

Herbert W. Hobler, President

Garden Film Repertory
presented by The Garden & McCarter Theatres

WED. thru SAT. – MAY 16-19
PAYDAY
Here is one of the two or three best American films thus far in 1973. RIP TORN stars (and he is sensational) as Maury Dann, a third-rate country & western singer, barnstorming through the south in his Cadillac, subsisting on a diet of booze, sex and pills — and on a collision course with disaster. We watch, horrified and fascinated, as his life careens out of control. PAYDAY is a film about how it really is in the pop music business, a film so close to factuality that we have no choice but to take it as literal truth. (USA, color, 1973, Rated R)

SUNDAY thru TUESDAY – MAY 20-22
THE SPIDER'S STRATAGEM
A Film by BERNARDO BERTOLUCCI
Before either THE CONFORMIST or LAST TANGO IN PARIS, Bertolucci made this film in 1970, and it's as good as either of them. Based on a Jose Luis Borges story, it deals with the workings of myth and the complicity of fact and legend in history. Bertolucci's point "It is not truth that matters, but the consequences of truth." He may be the most exciting director working in films today, and SPIDER'S STRATAGEM proved it long before LAST TANGO IN PARIS — and proved it better. (Italy, 1970, Rated GP — with English subtitles).

Both films at the GARDEN THEATRE in Princeton. Regular performance schedule at all times: Eves. at 7 & 9. Mats. Wed., Sat. & Sun. at 2. Regular admission prices. Pick up brochure at Playhouse, Garden or McCarter.

HELPLESS, HAPLESS BELLE: The type writer girl, victim of the Vampires of Chicago. She's Rita Rofe, who stars as "Belle the Typewriter Girl," in Community Players' production of the 19th-century melodrama. It opens this Friday at 8:30 in the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church.

News Of The THEATRES

THAT TYPEWRITER BELLE

What a Type! Invitations have been sent as far back stage as Kansas, California and Canada, hoping that former presidents of Princeton Community Players will appear Friday, May 18 for the Gala Opening Night of the Players' 10th anniversary production, "Belle the Typewriter Girl."

Performance dates for "Belle" are this Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20 and the following Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 24, 25 and 26, all at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church.

For the performance of Thursday, May 24, the Players are offering "student rush" tickets. After 8:15 p.m. that evening, students with identification cards may buy tickets at the reduced price of $1.50.

"DREAM" HERE

In British Film, The Royal Shakespeare Company's film of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be shown this Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in Murray Theatre on the University campus under the sponsorship of Theatre Intime.

The film, shot in the forests near Stratford-on-Avon, was directed by Peter Hall and features Diana Rigg, David Warner, Paul Rogers, Bill Tavers, Ian Richardson, Judi Dench and Barbara Jefford.

"BROADWAY" SERIES

Eight McCarter Events. The hit musical "Two Gentlemen of Verona" will open McCarter's "Broadway at McCarter" season with a two-night appearance Friday and Saturday, September 21 and 22. The musical won all Broadway's major prizes in 1972, including the New York Drama Critics' award as "Best Musical of the Year."

In October—Thursday and Friday, October 18-19—the theatre will feature Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy in a pair of one-act plays by Samuel Beckett. Mr. Cronyn will appear in "Krapp's Last Tape" and will then join Miss Tandy in "Not I." Later in the month, October 26-27, McCarter will present "Lemmings," the National Lampoon magazine satire of the rock music world.

Both offerings of the Phoenix Theatre will be given at McCarter before their New York openings. They are the Feydeau farce, "Chemin de Fer," directed by Stephen

First performed in New York with a cast that included Tom Ewell, Peggy Cass, Paul Ford and Alice Ghostley, these sketches of American life contain such titles as "The Night the Bed Fell;" the fable of the unicorn in the garden; and "Gentlemen Shoppers," which depicts two men on a shopping spree.

"The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" appears in the second act as does "File and Forget," in which Thurber recounts his famous correspondence with various publishers who ship him wrong books which he never ordered in the first place.

This lunatic festival is student directed under the supervision of Gregory Gonta and will be presented Wednesday, May 23 in the Hun Auditorium at 8 p.m.

days, and will be held Mondays through Fridays at a time to be determined.

Acting, directing, movement and dance are some of the workshops scheduled. Exact dates and leaders will be announced.

HELLO, WOODY

"Bananas," Woody Allen's "Bananas" he wrote, directed and stars in it will be shown twice next Monday in McCarter's May Movie Festival. Screening times are 7 and 9 p.m.

McCarter reminds potential audiences of highlights: a prisoner is tortured to the point of confession by incessant playing of the score of "Naughty Marietta," the late J. Edgar Hoover turns out to be black and female. Louise Lasser co-stars, and the cast includes TV personality Howard Cosell.

FIRESIGN COMING

"TV or Not TV" Proctor and Bergman of the Firesign Theatre will bring their evening of comedy, "TV or Not TV" to McCarter Sunday, June 10, at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale.

Their traveling baggage includes a special set built to look like a giant television studio, with a rear projection screen for both slides and film. The entourage also has three other actor musicians.

THE GARDEN

"Payday" (now playing through Saturday). A film of honesty and no pretension. As the film opens, subsisting on a diet of whiskey, sex and amphetamines, His life is divided between public adulation and private feelings. Inevitably between the bourbon, the pot and the compliant women, everything begins to go wrong. Torn is on a collision course with disaster. Fascinated and horrified, we watch the descent. The realism of "Payday" is such that one has no choice but to take it as some kind of literal truth.

"The Spider's Stratagem" (Sunday through Tuesday). Directed by Bernardo Bertolucci, the 32 year old director who rocketed to fame as the director of the controversial "Last Tango in Paris," the title of the film derives from an intricate web spun around a small Italian town.

A young man returns to the town where his father had been killed 30 years before by Fascists. His visit is ostensibly to dedicate a memorial to his father, but in a series of dreamlike encounters, with those who were his father's friends including his father's former mistress, he discovers they were the assassins. Was his father then traitor or hero?

Bertolucci's film is an intriguing beautifully wrought examination of both the nature of heroism and the complex facets of truth and illusion. In Italian with English titles.

PLAYHOUSE

"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man In The Moon Marigold." A moving, perceptive look at the drama of a thirteen year old mother lost and caught up in her own frustrations and disappointments and her two teenage daughters who are trying to escape the same path.

Joanne Woodward dominates the film with a brilliant performance. It was directed by her husband, Paul Newman. Like his first film, "Rachel, Rachel," also starring his wife, "Marigolds" looks its characters straight in the eye, offering neither sympathy nor distaste and leaving only as much hope at the end as one can reasonably expect.

As a mother who is clearly a mother second and a source of continuing frustration to herself, Miss Woodward is achingly real and surprisingly funny. Without patience to keep anything neat or tidy, her relationships with every one unkempt, she somehow manages to raise two daughters, one of which is subject to epileptic attacks and nightmares and is traveling the same bitter path her mother took and knows it. The younger, for lack of affection, has turned to things of the mind and is currently overwhelmed by science.

Not too much happens but Miss Woodward, and Roberta Wallach and Nell Potts (the two girls) have made Marigolds a tough, unsentimental and involving film. PG.

MONTGOMERY

Deep Thrust (now playing). This R-rated film is not what you might expect, but is about King Fu-Karate.

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results, of TOWN TOPICS for a varied selection of opportunities open to you.

. . . AND TWO ALICES: Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee, yes, but two Alices? Must be a looking glass. The "Alice" on the left is Betsy Guerin and the one on the right is Judith Biewener. They will alternate in the leading role when the Princeton Ballet Society's School of Ballet presents "Alice's Adventures" in McCarter on Saturday, May 26 (11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.). Gina Cippelli and Christine Edwards (center) are T. Dum and T. Dee. Arthur Lithgow will be the story-teller for the production.

IT'S NEW To Us

IT'S NEW IN PENNINGTON

Dress-Up Now Open. Dress-Up, a new clothing store for women, opened last Thursday, at 20 North Main Street, Pennington. Doris Riley, the owner, has stocked her store with a wide range of articles, from long dresses to sportswear co-ordinates.

Mrs. Riley spent years shopping, and at the same time wishing she could be a buyer. Now she is, and one of her objectives has been to include the type of item she so often found herself looking for. The clothes come in a large range of sizes (3-20) in comfortable styles and are realistically priced.

The easy-care polyester dress is very much in evidence at Dress-Up. One crisp summer style has a white pleated skirt, a sleeveless navy bodice with white dots and a bright red patent belt, $24.95. There is also the softest pink shirtwaist with a flared skirt and a ribbed top and long sleeves, $26.95.

We also admired a "wardrobe" in a white textured polyester. This includes a skirt, slacks, sleeveless jacket and a lavendar and white long sleeved blouse — all of which should carry you smartly through many meetings and weekends, $38.95.

Among the long dresses was a fresh looking green and white one with multi colored tulips on the bodice and skirt. The green and white pattern varies from stripes to dots and the effect of this cotton and dacron dress is cool and summery, $28.95.

Slacks are available in many polyester patterns or in permanent press solids. A pair we especially liked comes in white or navy polyester with cuffed legs, and a nice addition of two narrow belts, white and red or navy and red, $14.95.

And With the Slacks... To go with the slacks are many blouses, knitted tops and blazers. We saw a pretty white blouse with small red flowers, and a gay multi-colored gingham (blue, pink, yellow, green and white) one. Both blouses are long sleeved, $7.95.

Among the knitted tops were some cute short sleeved ones. There is a pink and white stripe with a white collar, $8.95, or a green with a dotted collar (also available in red or navy), $10.95.

One of the prettiest blazers we've seen in at Dress-Up. This is a polyester and cotton seersucker plaid, available in several combinations — blue, green and white; red, white and blue; or lavendar, pink and white, $16.95. Solids or stripes are also available.

Dress Up is open Monday to Saturday from 10 to 6, and Friday evenings until 8.

EATING INSIDE OR OUT

Happy House Can Help. With the long summer evenings already here, Happy House is ready with many coordinated accessories for outdoor living.

The bamboo and cane motif is dominate this year in decorating, and for porches and patios there are textured ice buckets ($19), glasses (6 old fashioned for $8), a cheese board with a tile and several divisions for crackers or spreads ($13) and cocktail napkins — all with the cane pattern.

Other co-ordinated sets include a nautical blue and white pattern of boats and knots; a bold blue, red and white flower design; and a blue denim with red accents.

With the blue denim ice bucket, Larry Huntress, Happy House's owner, has shown red Bopon glasses. These plastic glasses are dishwasher proof, are now in a new shape that is flat on the bottom, and come in many colors such as green, yellow, blue and orange. Eight old fashioned glasses cost $6.50.

Picnic Caddy. A nice hostess gift is a picnic caddy. This is a basket with divisions for plates, napkins, and cutlery, which makes it easy to carry all necessary items to the porch table in one trip, $3. They come in various colors and can be fully equipped with any of the many paper plates and napkins at Happy House.

For a lobster dinner, Mr. Huntress suggests black plates, which really make the lobster stand out. To complete the table there are lobster tablecloths, bibs, and napkins in three sizes.

Within the last few years, glass has been discovered for many new uses, and Happy House carries a variety of these objects. There are terrariums in several shapes, such as a 100-ounce brandy glass, $26, or globes from $12 to $28 for one with a 16 inch

Kitchen Chemistry makes a line of canisters with cork stoppers that come in many sizes from short and fat to tall and thin for wine or spaghetti. Some even have their own wooden scoops on the side, $3 and up.

New from Corning. The newest innovation we've seen is Corning's Creative Glass casserole. Totally heat resistant, it comes with a glass cover and a cork base for use at the table. $8 for the one and one-fourth quart size. An added benefit is that without the top, it also makes a perfect soufflé dish.

Mr Huntress says that with the recent emphasis on meatless dinners he has sold more casseroles in the past six weeks than he has for two years. In addition to the glass one mentioned above, there are many decorated casseroles, such as a white one with a shamrock design that comes in several sizes, $11 and up.

With the barbecue season just approaching, people begin to think of good knives and Happy House carries three of the best — Sabtier, Solingen and Gerber. However, before buying the knives, Mr. Huntress suggests a good cutting board and a sharpener.

A good board will help the knife to keep its edge longer. Such a board is constructed with the end grain of the wood, so that the knife will sink in a fraction of an inch and not be dulled by resistance. The board is oiled and therefore re-seals itself. Unfortunately good boards are expensive, but with care they should last a long time. A double sided board by Woodenware is $23.

Mr Huntress says that a knife should be judged by the ease with which it can be sharpened. The edge of a good knife never really disappears, it just gets turned by use, and because the knife can quickly be honed the purchase of a steel one is highly recommended.

Mongolian Cooker. One of the stores more fascinating objects is a Mongolian Cooker. This authentic reproduction of an ancient charcoal fueled stove", still used in Northern China, is solid copper with an aluminum hood pan.

Chicken broth is heated in the cooking pan, and then a selection of marinated shrimp, pork, okra and meatballs, is placed in a small wire basket and cooked in the broth. In some ways this is similar to fondue, and a cheese fondue dish can be substituted for the Mongolian cooker.

Added to the large candle selection at Happy House, is a spherical one, available in several sizes. Set on glass holders of various heights ($1.50 and up), a group of these make a most interesting centerpiece. These round candles burn very nicely and come in many colors such as avocado, yellow, red, orange and blue.

Happy House, located at the Princeton Shopping Center, is open Monday to Saturday from 10 to 5:30. Thursday and Friday evenings, the store remains open until 9.

the Joint Recreation Commission

The month of May being Senior Citizens Month, the Recreation Department would like to take this opportunity to announce a new program being initiated specifically for Princeton's senior citizens.

Residents 65 and over will upon request receive free pool season ticket passes. Beginning June 12 Community Park Pool will be open on Tuesday and Thursday to senior citizens from 10:30 a.m.

In addition, Barbara Waaben will be offering a class at the Pool to begin June 12 (10-11:30) which will meet each Tuesday and Thursday. The class will offer very gentle yoga exercises geared to the individual's needs, and be followed by a leisure swim period.

Mrs. Waaben, who has taught swimming and had 5 years experience in teaching yoga, is most enthusiastic about the class and is looking forward to meeting many elderly residents.

There is no charge for the program nor is it necessary to contact the Pool in advance.

BARGAINS PROMISED

At Lane of Shops. Bargain hunters will enjoy browsing along the Lane of Shops at the "Roaring Twentieth Fete" on June 2.

The tents flying the bright floral pennants house 10 little stores with a wide selection of attractively priced finds. Mrs. Robert M. Merritt and Mrs. Kempton Hastings are coordinating the lane.

The Lion's Den Boutique will specialize in hand-crafted items: Marnin Knutsen's one-of-a-kind signed scarves, colorful caftans, wrap-around skirts, loveable mice and teddy bears dressed in the latest fashions.

Many of the beautifully decorated wooden objects were made by men in the area: lap boards for sick-a-birds, sand buckets for the patio, sturdy swing seats are available. There will also be basket purses and wastebaskets along with one-of-a-kind enameled jewelry.

For Teenagers. At Teen Tent the younger generation can find posters, records, jeans, shirts and very mod dresses. Second Time Around promises good buys on summer and winter clothes, accessories and sportswear for the whole family. This is where to look for a good used pair of ski boots or ice skates.

For 20 years the members of the Friendship Club have sold their exquisitely made aprons at the Fete. They will run the popular Apron Bar again this year. If you do your own sewing, Fabrics Plus will have knits, curtain and drapery material by the yard and trimmings.

The Art Gallery will feature original work only with prices ranging from $1 to $150. Haitian wood carvings, exquisite oils by area artists, etchings, graphics, ceramics, watercolors, and pottery are all attractively priced.

At the Portrait Sketch Pad your portrait will be sketched by an artist in charcoal or pastels. If you prefer, Silhouettes will do a likeness. Children of all ages are fascinated by the process and the result.

The Flea Market will offer bargains galore; bric-a-brac, china, glassware, jewelery, silver, copper and brassware.

Stop at the Pampered Kitchen to get a tasty homemade relish, sauce or preserve. Little things to make any kitchen happier, from old rolling pin to modern bar equipment, will be available.

Mrs. Pleasant Phox, Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. J. I. Huchuergrath, Mrs. Walter G. Gibson, Mrs. William Bonzer, Jr., Mrs. B. Carl Hillman, Mrs. Samuel K. Hunt, Mrs. Albert J. Stives, Mrs. Clarence V. Johnson, Mrs. Raymond G. Woolfe, Jr., Mrs. Jeanette Kowal, Mrs. John J. Burns, Mrs. William Pearce, Mrs. Edwin B. Shaw, Jr., Mrs. Carol Collins, Mrs. Laurence H. Sanford, Jr., and Mrs. Richard W. Strazza are responsible for the various shops in the Lane.

Mailboxes Moved

The road that leads up to Borough Hall — Monument Drive — will be the new location of two snorkel mailboxes, moved from closed-off Palmer Square.

"This gets motorists away from the Central Business District," commented Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, announcing the mail shift. "We're still looking for a spot in the eastern section of town for another mailbox."

Observing one week of Palmer Square closing, the mayor said he, Engineer Donald Harney and a group of citizens will work on fixing up the Square so that its naked pavement won't look quite so bare. Architects will be invited to submit a phased design, looking toward a permanent closing of the Square, he said.

MARIJUANA SEIZED

In Pretty Brook Road Home. Two-hundred sixty pounds of marijuana, one of the largest amounts ever confiscated in Princeton Township, was seized Tuesday from a two-story home on Pretty Brook Road, following a narcotics raid by members of the State Police Narcotics Bureau.

Lt. Gordon Hector said that the 5 p.m. raid, conducted with the co-operation of the Township Police and the Essex County Sheriff's Office, took place at Strawberry Hill Farm. He described the residence as a "crib," drug parlance for a place where narcotic sellers purchase their supply.

Arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and arraigned were Jay Rose, 26, and his wife Kathleen, 28, residents of Strawberry Hill Farm. Also Mark M. Finkelstein, 21, of Marlboro; Barry D. Fishlow, 20, of Edison; and Robert W. Boyle, 20, of New Brunswick.

Lt. Hector, spokesman for the State Police Narcotics Bureau, said that other charges are pending and that about five others were arrested.

THREE BANDS TO PLAY

To Aid Heart Fund. Seeking to raise $13,000 to enable it to reach its 1973 goal, the Mercer County Chapter of the American Heart Fund will present a program of entertainment at various shopping centers in the county on Saturday.

A fife and drum corps, a steel drum band and a herald trumpet team will provide music alternately at the Princeton Shopping Center starting at 2:30. The program here is designed to last 90 minutes.

PARKING EASED SLIGHTLY

At Princeton Medical Center. Elusive parking spaces are more available now than they were a month ago at the Princeton Medical Center, as a result of the implementation of findings of a two-day survey that checked every incoming car.

"We were relieved to find that several minor changes would rectify much of the problem," said Walter A. Seligman, administrator of the Medical Center.

The survey revealed that many of the 1600 cars that park there daily are driven by visitors or patients to the Medical Arts Building, a complex of doctors' offices adjacent to the Center. The average stay of the 760 cars driven by doctors' patients and visitors was an hour.

In contrast, the average

How'd She Look in White Bucks?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Initially I would like to thank the Arts Council and everyone else who made the Art People's Party possible this year.

But I am disappointed by Mr. Brophy's derogatory statements (Town Topics, May 10) about the quality of Arts and Crafts shown, and the "element attracted" by them.

Once a year artists and craftspeople are given the chance to display and sell their work to the community, on a personal basis, in an open, free atmosphere. They have studied and labored too long for their work to be described or treated in such a manner.

Perhaps if Mr Brophy had ventured out to participate in the party, he wouldn't have found "havoc and filth" but rather a street full of happy, relaxed people enjoying the colorful array of uniquely displayed arts and crafts.

In all deference to Mr Brophy's trade, it is doubtful that any person whose heart was set on a pair of "white bucks" would have settled for a woven necklace. Rather than go barefoot, this thwarted customer would have in all probability returned Monday.

If it would help business, I would be more than happy to model and promote a pair of Mr Brophy's shoes at the next Art People's Party.

Another Viewpoint.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In regard to Princeton businessmen and their reported negative reactions to the Art People Party we would like to offer a contrasting voice of enthusiasm.

We, also, are Princeton merchants but rather than feel disconcerted by the Arts Council's yearly Festival we have made the day an occasion for constructive planning and happy cooperation.

For example the electric power for the "Lamplighter Lol" amplifier and for the closed circuit TV is provided by our store and we have yearly scheduled a program of interest by our Nassau Street sidewalk frontage. This year it was a potter who entertained throngs of interested observers.

We are wholeheartedly behind the concept of exhibitions which the Arts Council is trying to present. We have found for example, that people respond with attention and appreciation to our occasional Brass Religious Music.

Perhaps those who have faulted the day for a flea market atmosphere could turn their energies toward making a colonial type area for presentation of memorabilia crafts, so that old Princeton and its charm can be preserved as well as the contemporary crafts which help us be part of the excitement of the now.

Enthusiastic, colorful gatherings are good for people, and one would like to think that what is good for people is good for business as well. The dedicated men and women who planned the event, and those merchants who entered into the spirit of it, deserve encouragement. With proper participation Princeton's Art Peoples Day can be everyone's day, be we buyers, sellers, or just celebrants.

A Party Worth Repeating.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Art People Party is a great party! Princetonians GET TOGETHER and have a good time! Anything like this that makes this town more of a hometown for everybody deserves to be a continuing tradition.

I would sincerely hope that no merchant was unpoverished as a result of the event. But after reading Mr Brophy's advertisement, I was rather cheered by his complaint that he sold fewer white bucks that day made from "prized skins of rare South American Jack Deer."

A demonstration of the serapbie craft of shoe - making would certainly promote good will, and might even increase sales of other, more desirable types of shoes. It would be a wonderful addition to next year's Art People Party.

Now About Next Year . . .

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is too bad that not everybody had a good time at the Art People's Party. I am thinking, of course, of Mr. Brophy and the merchants who signed his petition.

Maybe if they had had a chance to participate in some of the things that were going on, they would feel differently but I can see how they would feel a bit sour – being stuck in their stores all day, seeing all those people outside having fun, watching the dancing, theater craft demonstrations, meeting friends, listening to the music, buying balloons and treats for their children, food and things from the street booths. It must get have been pretty dull for Mr Brophy and the others.

So I have a suggestion for next year: why don't they remove their cherrooms, pull out some of the things that haven't been moving, or some special items that would appeal to a festive crowd, set up tables or racks in front of their stores and join in. Some attractive decorations, a one-half OFF" or "SPECIAL FOR TODAY" sign, a patient sales person and they would find them enjoying as much fun as everyone else.

Their stock would be moving and some of those "has beens" like white bucks and clam diggers would be taken off their hands. Their cash register would be ringing and that is apparently what makes them happy.

Here's to a bigger and better Art People's Party next year and to a good time for all.

A Word of Disbelief.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

After reading Mr. Ian Walker's article on the Great Garbage Landfill planned by our solons to be placed in Lawrence Township, (Town Topics, May 5), I hope Mr. Walker knows more about what he is so fervently advocating than he does about human nature.

Mr. Walker says, "We have been asked if we would be for it if it were in our watershed. We would. And we would publicly say so." Oh, Brother!!!

Obituaries

Dr. J. Leonard Moore, 73, of 59 Westcott Road, a pediatrician and co-founder of the Princeton Medical Group, died May 12 at the Princeton Medical Center. Dr. Moore was devoted to improving child health care and he founded the Department of Pediatrics at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon.

Born in Beirut to an American physician and his wife living there, Dr. Moore graduated in 1920 from Princeton University and earned his medical degree from the College of Physicins and Surgeons at Columbia University.

He then returned to Lebanon to form the pediatrics department, where he became professor of pediatrics. He established public health and child care programs in rural areas of that country. In 1963 he was named to the Order of the Cedars of Lebanon for these contributions.

During World Was I he served in Egypt with the American Red Cross. In World War II, he was a lieutenant colonel in command of the Army Air Force's Arctic-Desert-Tropic Information Center in Orlando, Fla.

In 1945, he helped establish the Princeton Medical Group, the physicians' cooperative, and served as its administrative officer in its formative years. For many years he also was president of the Borough Board of Health. His active practice of pediatrics ended just four months ago.

Dr. Moore was a member of Alph Omega Alpha the medical honorary society, and of the American Academy of Pediatrics. He was an elder of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, the former Lilian Carin Borg, a daughter, Mrs. Leighton H. Laughlin; two sons, John L. Jr., of Princeton, and Dr. Thomas J. of New York; and eight grandchildren.

A memorial service will be Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. Arrangements for a private service and interment were made by Kimble Funeral Home. Contributions may be sent to First Prebyterian Church or to the pediatrics service of the Princeton Medical Center.

Dr. Robert R. Cawley, professor of English, Emeritus, at Princeton University and an internationally-recognized authority on Milton and English literature of the Renaissance died May 11 at The Princeton Medical Center. He was 79 years old and had been a resident of Princeton for more than 50 years.

A member of the University's faculty from 1922 until his retirement in June 1962, Dr. Cawley was also widely-known for his work on the influence of the "voyaging tradition' on English literature. He was the author of numerous books and articles in his fields of special interest, including such major publications as "The Voyagers and Elizabethan Drama," "Unpathed Waters," "Studies in the Influence of the Voyagers on Elizabethan Literature," and "Milton and the Literature of Travel."

Born in Canaseraga, N.Y. on July 18, 1893, he was the son of the late Frank E. and Sarah Brown Cawley. He studied at Harvard University with the Class of 1915, receiving his A.B. degree there in three years, his A.M. with honors, and his Ph.D. in 1921.

Between his undergraduate and graduate work, he taught at the Thatcher School, Ojai, Calif., and later served as an officer in the United States Army during World War I. He subsequently taught for a year at MIT.

Further Study Abroad. Following his doctoral degree, he received a traveling fellowship from Harvard, and studied at the Sorbonne and at the University of Berlin. In his early years he was President of the London Scholars, a group associated with the American Union, and over many years he engaged in research in foreign libraries, notably in London and Oxford.

Joining the Princeton University faculty as an Instructor in English in 1922, Dr. Cawley became Assistant Professor in 1925; Associate Professor in 1927; and Professor in 1944.

For upwards of 25 years he gave the courses here on Milton and on English literature of the 17th century to both undergraduates and graduate students. In addition, during the 15 years preceding his retirement he taught graduate studies in Spenser and the Renaissance. His principal field of research at Princeton concerned the influence of travel literature in the English literature of the Renaissance and its significance to the gradual awakening of men's minds to foreign ideas and manners.

After retirement from the Princeton faculty, Dr. Cawley was called by the City University of New York as Distinguished Professor to help establish a new program for the Ph.D. in English for the several institutions comprising the university, and to give graduate and undergraduate work in the literature of the 17th century.

length of stay of those visiting the Center's clinics and diagnostic services was an hour and a half. Employees, as expected, left their cars for as long as eight hours.

"The course of action was obvious," says Mr. Seligman. The Center's Franklin Avenue lot was designated for employees and volunteers, while parking directly adjacent to the hospital has been made available to the consumer alone.

To ease the transition, members of the Center's security staff have been stationed at entrances to all parking area.

Reserved parking is available directly outside the hospital's emergency room; security officers will direct all those needing emergency treatment to that area. Parents with sick children will be directed to an area designated for them and clergymen—and blood donors—will be accorded reserved parking as well.

Contest This Sunday for Model Airplane Fans

As part of the year-long celebration of 100 years of engineering at Princeton University, model airplane and glider buffs, ages 10 to 90, are invited to participate in a day-long contest in Jadwin Gymnasium this Sunday from 9 to 5.

Hand-launched gliders, paper sticks, miniature airplanes and paper gliders will compete in separate events for first, second, and third prizes of "winged victory" trophies.

Paper gliders, to be built on the scene with materials provided at the contest, and made-at-home balsa wood gliders are powered by human arm thrusts. Paper sticks of balsa wood covered with paper and miniature scale-model airplanes are rubber-band powered. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of soaring time.

Jadwin's dome is some 72 feet high and, according to the Academy of Model Aeronautics, which is sponsoring the event, many of the models are expected to attain a height of 70 feet.

Entry fees for participants over 14 years are $1.00 for the first event and 50 cents for each additional event. An Academy of Model Aeronautics license is required for all model airplane entries. Spectators are welcome free of charge; refreshments will be sold in the gymnasium.

MUSIC In Princeton

UNITED VOICES FORMED
Heard at Art People Party.
The chorus has about 45 men's and women's voices, not only full and rich and good, but vibrant with the kind of zest that comes from love of what they sing

It's the United Voices, formed from a base in Princeton's First Baptist Church but not a church choir in the strict sense. Princeton's residents heard the group, maybe for the first time, when the United Voices gathered a week ago on the steps of the First Presbyterian Church at Palmer Square. Their singing was one of the final events of the Art People Party.

All ages—from young voices about 12 years old, to middle-aged voices with years of rich experience behind them; all sexes—except that it's hard to find men, especially tenors, and all but about six of the Voices are women; all races—the group is basically black group, but there is one white voice

The United Voices was started by Silas Townsend, a Seminary student who conducted the group when it sang at the Art People party. He gathered his singers around him just about three years ago, in late spring of 1970 and since that time he has taken he Voices as far as Virginia and to Trenton and Pennington and Madison, in New Jersey

They perform before church congregations and high school audiences and anybody else who wants to invite them. Dorothy Alexander, long known in church music in Princeton, is the organist (she was at the little portable console at the Art People Party) and Lorraine David is her assistant.

Gospel and pop tune convulse the repertory. "Didn't It Rain and Bridge Over Troubled Waters," "Lean on Me" and "Young Gifted and Black." At the Art People Party they also sang "The Whole World in His Hands," briefly, as the audience could join in, and join in they did!

SING! The United Voices weren't even muffled by mufflers and coats they wore at the chilly Art People Party. Here they are, that Party day, on the steps of the First Presbyterian Church. The singers wear embroidered beige doshikis which, they feel are more closely in harmony with the music the Voices sing than choir robes would be. Members come from Kingston, Trenton and Cranbury, as well as from Princeton. One Voice, a Seminary student, is from California.

MAY PANORAMA

At the Eye for Art. Landscape painting can often present specific artistic problems, even to an able painter. Natural beauties frequently translate into visual clichés. John Reeves, in his first one man show, has presented nature, in all its glory, while adding something of his own style and making a personal statement about his subject.

The results achieve the ultimate goal of good art, which is to allow the viewer to look at the subject with a dimension added as a result of having experienced the artist's work.

Pattern, texture and space are all imaginatively presented, while maintaining the essence of the subject. A visual overlay of tone and design combine with a strong sense of spatial structure. The resulting paintings are multi-faceted in their capacity for creating visual pleasure.

Drawings by this artist contain the same strengths combined with a delicate and sensitive use of fine line and linear texture. Reeves also uses his acrylics as a wash medium in a collection of lightly toned, transparent paintings. These include tropical as well as local scenes and in their way also convey good, creative landscape painting.

The 20th century is well represented with prints by Sloan, Chagall, Grosz, Braque, Hayter, Vasarely and Albers. There are also many works from other periods that represent significant expressions of their era.

Drawings, serigraph, lithograph and etchings are included, creating an exhibit that provides a large technical and stylistic span.

At the Artisan. Grisaille is a technically elaborate 16th century enamelling technique seldom used today. The surface used is a piece of metal that has been enamelled black.

Whites and tonal areas are created by the gradual addition of layers of white and multiple firings. Grisaille enamels can be glazed and fired as many as 15 times in order to create the proper depth and intensity of the highlights.

Harold Helwig is among the few American craftsmen studying this technique. The results are a collection of figurative, richly patterned works as well as one pure design which is ceramic in feeling. Helwig draws on mythological and Eudaedic forms for many of his subjects and even his representational figures have an air of fantasy about them.

At the Drawing Room. Watercolors, drawings and prints by George Cruikshank are featured at the Drawing Room. Accompanied by watercolors executed by his father, Isaac, and his brother, Robert, Cruikshank's works provide entertainment and informative glimpses into the social habits of the 19th century English.

A great deal of wit and skill are combined in a collection of hand colored prints which manage to toss amusing and skillful darts at social habits, professional men, national pastimes and provide humorous and cutting glimpses into the many life styles of the period. Illustration, a few sketches and small watercolors are included in this very pleasing and entertaining collection.

At Suzuki, Kingston. Still life and landscape by Dolores Danzig are an intense and exotic experience of flowers and forms that are tropical in feeling. Mrs. Danzig, a self-taught artist, has focused on color and pattern, and these two elements dominate the show.

Richly-hued jungle settings are intensified by the lush combinations the artist selects and tempered by textural overpainting. Good use has been made of the effects created by applying light over dull and by the visual impact of silhouette and surface. The overall effect is a dynamic interaction of subject and technique.

At Guild & Gallery Plus. Metal construction by Michael Rocco offers a wide range of sculptural effects here in the Montgomery Shopping Center. Although the goals of each vary, there is a unifying technical point of view that threads through the many works on display. Figurative works include animal and human forms in highly-styled, often very large pieces. A great many works are explorations into pattern, form and shadow, often composed of found objects.

The artist seems most concerned with pattern and his works are constructed of many elements which unify to build large volumes patterned by both shape and shadow.

At Art Confederation, Kingston. Two realists, one a sculptor and one a painter, combine their work in the present show. Sculptor Joe Brown displays small, carefully coned figure sculpture for which he is nationally noted.

Robert Sakson paints in watercolor. His focus is landscape, including interior scenes with architectural elements. He is skilful in his application of paint and handles his subtle combinations of color very well. Sakson is strongest where he utilizes the interaction of his intense, well-executed darks and carefully - structured white areas.

MUSEUM HEAD NAMED

Bunnell Succeeds Kelleher. Peter C. Bunnell, an art scholar with intensive experience as a museum administrator, has been named by President William G. Bowen as the new Director of The Art Museum at Princeton University. The appointment of Prof. Bunnell followed an extensive search carried on by a committee chaired by Professor Wen Fong, present Chairman of the Department of Art and Archaeology at Princeton.

Prof. Bunnell, who came to the Princeton faculty a year ago from The Museum of Modern Art in New York to become the first incumbent of the David Hunter McAlpin Professorship of the History of Photography and Modern Art, will succeed Prof. Patrick J. Kelleher in the directorship of the University Museum. Dr. Kelleher is resigning his post at the end of the current academic year.

In commenting on the fact that a member of Princeton's own Department of Art and Archaeology had been chosen as the Museum Director, President Bowen stressed the importance of cooperation between the Museum staff and the Department faculty that is "so essential to the effective functioning of the kind of 'teaching Museum' we seek to maintain at Princeton."

"I am delighted that Peter Bunnell has agreed to take on the Museum directorship," President Bowen said. "He will be a teaching director, whose credentials as a scholar and a teacher are well known. At the same time, he brings to his new post an outstanding record of professional administrative and curatorial accomplishment at The Museum of Modern Art."

Professor Bunnell will continue to offer courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels in the history of photography. He will be working closely in his Museum post with the newly-named chairman of the Department of Art and Archaeology, Dr. John R. Martin, Marquand Professor of Art and Archaeology.

Prof. Bunnell, who first came to Princeton three years ago as a visiting lecturer, said that one of his particular areas of interest will be that "the University serves the wider community. I want, for example, to make the Museum a focal point for the student body in general, not only the art history majors. The Museum should become more a part of every student's experience.

"I would like to widen the diversity of the art we will show here," he said, "particularly contemporary art. There are great possibilities for cooperative work between the Art Museum and the Visual Arts Program, as well as many other University departments. Visual Arts has some very exciting names coming up as visiting artists next year and I'd like to be showing their work here while they are on campus."

Bunnell, who is 35 years old, studied at Rochester Institute of Technology, Ohio University and Yale where, while working towards his Ph.D. he was Research Associate in the Alfred Stieglitz Archive. He has taught at New York University and Dartmouth, and has lectured widely at colleges and universities throughout the U.S.

He has published extensively in the field of photography and directed numerous exhibitions at The Museum of Modern Art. In 1967 he wrote and hosted the television show, "Time, Light and Vision: The Art of Photography," a 75 minute production for the NET network.

NEW SHOW TO OPEN

At Squibb Gallery. Earth, sea and sky in a variety of moods are presented in Squibb Gallery's upcoming exhibition this Monday through June 5.

Large, and for the most part, semi-abstract works in oil, tempera, acrylic and collage have been selected from eight nationally known artists to portray nature in moments from serenity to violence, in sun's glare or stilled in fog. All works show a masterly blend of color, arrangement and form to convey a mood, a time, a place.

The selection of nearly 30 paintings is presented by Midtown Galleries of New York. Represented in museum and private collections around the country, the artists are Edward Betts, Charles Cowles, Ethel Magafan, Richard Mayhew, Hans Moller, William Palmer, Jason Schnurer and William Thon.

Of local interest are Charles Cowles who resides in Bucks County, Pa., and Hans Moller whose studio is in Allentown, Pa. Mr. Cowles is showing two canvases, Mr. Moller, three.

Viewing hours at Squibb Gallery are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The gallery is located in the Worldwide Headquarters of E. R. Squibb & Sons, Inc., on Route 206 two miles south of Princeton.

PLANTS FOR CHILDREN At Fete This Year. A new feature of the Garden Tent at the Princeton Medical Center Fete this year will be a junior section where small pots of sturdy plants which can survive a lot of attention (and a little neglect) will be specially arranged for children at prices appropriate to allowances.

Walter Kaplonski, senior in Horticulture at Mercer county College was the inspiration behind the Junior Section.

His planning and expertise will also be behind the inviting display of foliage bearing house plants and the popular hanging baskets which will be offered for sale. Varieties will include fushia, petunias, impatiens, broallia, geraniums, and double flowering wax begonias.

The co-Chairmen, Mrs. Richard Williams and Mrs. Frank Kobesky report that a second new feature of the Garden Tent this year will be Dish Gardens and Terrariums. Some will be made up but the ingredients for making your own will be available too. How about a desert garden in a dish using cactus and succulents? Mrs. Thomas Lodge will be on hand with advice and ideas.

If you've been toying with the idea of starting a Victory Garden, flats of vegetables — tomatoes, eggplant, peppers will be for sale. Also, flats of favorite annuals and fragrant pots of herbs.

Have you been looking for a large, unusually handsome planter for your patio? The Garden Tent will have some filled with cascading plants. And, if you're expecting guests over the Fete weekend, look for the French Flower Market Cart and choose some fresh cut flowers for your dinner table.

A Potpourri Booth in the Garden Tent will feature some particularly attractive garden and patio accessories like satin candles and holders, garden torches, handmade macrame hanging flower pot holders (by Princeton teenagers), dried flower arrangements, hanging herb pots and brackets, etc. Lovely to have for your own — and great gift ideas for friends.

Just outside the entrance to the Garden Tent will be a delightful miniature garden, shrubs and plantings arranged and donated to the Fete by Samuel DeTura, landscape architect and owner of Woodwinds Associates, Inc., of Princeton. Holding court in Mr. DeTuro's garden will be the Fete Lion, in the form of an original sculpture.

Fete goers may pick out their plants early in the day while choices are generous, and the Garden Tent staff will store them until the purchaser is ready to go home.

TROOP 88 BENEFITS From First Aid Training. For eight of his 15 years with the Princeton First Aid Squad Ray Wadsworth of Spruce Street was the Instructor in First Aid to that group.

In 1972 and again in 1973 he turned his attention toward teaching interested boys of Troop 88 the value of preparedness by taking them through the American National Red Cross "Basic Course in First Aid To The Injured."

Twenty one Scouts completed the 10 weeks course last year, another 21 in 1973. Those who received certificates after the final examination recently include: Keith Bayern, Fred Beck, Ken Beck, Paul Berkelhammer, Greg Burdwood, Mark Burdwood, Tom Cawley, Walter Cruickshank, Bruce Duba, Randy Glas, Calvin Harris, Jimmy Harris, Dan Levine, Nicholas Pirone, Rick Seiler, Tom Seiler, Richard A. Smith, Richard M Smith, Pete Thompson, and Mike Walmsley.

All Scouts are required to be skilled in First Aid techniques, but only members of Troop 88 have been fortunate enough to receive instructions in the Red Cross Basic Course.

THEY'VE GOT PLANTS TO DRESS UP YOUR GARDEN: Mrs. Richard Williams (left), and Mrs. Frank Kobesky, co-chairmen of the Garden Tent at the Princeton Medical Center Fete, will have a wide variety of plants and vegetables on sale June 2 for those interested in adding to their gardens. (Barbara Russo photo)

EXPANSION PLANNED By Council for Problem Pregnancies. The Princeton Council for Problem Pregnancies is planning to broaden its scope and become a state-wide counselling and referral service for problems related to human sexuality.

According to Edward A. Salkind, Executive Director of the Council, there is still a tremendous need for counseling, even though abortion is now legal in all states.

The Council began as an abortion referral service and has since expanded its services to include pregnancy testing, birth control and VD counselling. It has two paid counsellors at present and several volunteers.

"There are lots of organizations throughout the state dealing with human sexuality", said Mr. Salkind, "but there is no combination of the programs and organizations." These groups cover a wide spectrum of services he pointed out. Personnel range from paid professional staffers to volunteer telephone counsellors.

One Phone Number. What the Princeton Council now proposes is an organization, staffed mostly by volunteers, that will coordinate existing services. The immediate goal would be to make people aware that they could call one telephone number and be given a direct referral to the closest source of aid for any particular sex-related problem.

Some questions could be answered immediately over the telephone by experienced counsellors. In more serious situations the phone counsellors would have the resources to guide the caller to the closest source of reliable aid.

These aids will be existing state, federal, and private organizations on file at the coordinating center.

The Princeton Council for Problem Pregnancies is now developing files on all groups dealing with human sexuality. A non profit organization, funded only by donations, the council will need, and is actively seeking, funds from foundations, state and federal governments, and individuals.

Interested organizations or individuals are urged to call Mr. Salkind at 609 921 3221 or visit the counselling office at 199 Nassau Street.

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED By Rhododendron Society. A group of unique prizes will make competition unusually keen among entrants in this month's seventh annual flower show of the Princeton Chapter of the American Rhododendron Society.

The exhibit, in which no less than 42 classes of rhododendron and azalea will be entered, is to take place Sunday, May 20, at the Stuart Country Day School. It will be open to the public, without admission charge, from 10 to 4.

Winners in the several classes will each receive an original watercolor created exclusively for the 1973 Princeton Show by Mary Robinhold Clark, a Wrightstown, Pa., artist and member of the Princeton Chapter.

The grand prize for best in show will be a porcelain sculpture designed by Cybis Porcelain, of Trenton, in the form of a graceful blossom of magnolia grandiflora, five inches tall. The original was created for "Morven," the Governor's colonial mansion in Princeton.

Exhibits in the one-day show, which will be judged in advance on Saturday, May 19, are to consist of individual cut trusses, or sprays, of rhododendron or azalea. The plants will feature a tremendous range of colors in the blossoms of these woodland plants, from white through many shades of pink to deepest purple.

How's this for an oddity about the most famous double play combination in baseball history, Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance! Baseball fans have been hearing about them for years. Yet, the fact is that this combination actually made very few double plays! When Franklin P Adams wrote his famous poem about them in 1908, they made only eight double plays all year! The year before they had made only seven. And, in 15 World Series games in which they played in 1906-07-08, this combination made no double plays at all!

Has there ever been anybody in big league baseball history who played in over 100 games in a season and NEVER struck out! It's never happened. The closest anyone ever came to that was infielder Joe Sewell, who in 1925, played in 155 games, had 608 at bats, and struck out only four times all year.

• • •

Here's an interesting fact about golf that shows, more than anything else, how this game has grown. In 1934, the leading money winner in pro golf, Paul Runyan, won a total of just over $6,000 all year—and he was the LEADING money winner, which means everybody else made less. Today's leading money winners make almost 40 times more than that, or over $200,000 a year!

Tigers Own 2 Team Titles as Season Nears End

Princeton's spring sports season came to a virtual close last weekend with the Tigers in possession of two championships: the eastern sprint title for the 150-lb crew and the Ivy League crown in golf. The tennis team, with one match to go at Harvard Saturday, missed the eastern title by one point, a 5-4 defeat by Columbia.

While track is a likely .500 finisher these teams did exceptionally well, and three others missed the break-even point. Baseball, now 12-17 with three games left, finished 6-7 in the Eastern League, its first visit below .500 in the past four seasons.

Early success for the lacrosse team was not reflected as the season progressed, and an unexpected loss to Harvard cost the Orange and Black a chance to break even in Ivy action. The Tigers won only one of their last six, finishing the year with a 6-10 record.

At Ithaca Saturday, it was Cornell 14, Princeton 4, and no contest. Whether any of the Princetonians will earn a berth in the annual North-South game remains to be seen. It will be held for the first time in Palmer Stadium on Saturday, June 9.

The track team met with fair success, losing to Penn and Harvard but topping Rutgers, Columbia and Yale — the Elis by the unbelievable margin of 125 to 20 in rivalry that one saw the Tigers delighted with a one-point victory. Whereas they still can field representative personnel in the sport, it is in serious decline at New Haven. A meet with Army at West Point Saturday will find the cadets favored.

A puzzling paradox in rowing exists on the lake. Where as the lightweights can find more than enough oarsmen to fill varsity, jayvee and freshman shells — and eight who are good enough to be best in the east, if not the nation — there are barely enough big men to keep Princeton in the water.

Fifties Win Easily. Harvard's veteran lightweight crew felt that Princeton's triumph by a matter of feet in the Goldthwait Cup race on May 5 was a possible fluke and expected to erase the cut come with a victory in the sprint championships Saturday at Worcester, Mass. Princeton not only duplicated its victory but widened its margin to a full length (four seconds.) The Tigers thus finished the year undefeated in six regattas and will make the coveted trip to Henley, England, in June.

Princeton's heavies failed to qualify for the finals, finishing fifth in their morning heat. The title went to Northeastern, marking the first time in several years that Harvard has been shut out of a first place. On a basis of depth, however, the Crimson remained dominant, compiling sufficient points throughout the day to win both the Howe and the Dope cups.

Ball Team Gets One Hit. Held to a lone single and guilty of poor play afield, Princeton's baseball team lost its final Eastern League game to Navy Saturday. The middies' 5-1 triumph at Annapolis left the Tigers in the last spot in first division despite their inability to break even.

A scheduled trip to Cambridge this Wednesday was cancelled when Cornell surprisingly lost all three of its final games, one to Harvard and a doubleheader to Dartmouth. The action gave Harvard its third straight EIBL title.

Randy Blevins was the victim at Annapolis of the totally inadequate support at the plate, a performance made worse by the fact that three of the victors' five runs were unearned. Catcher George Cummings singled in the second for Princeton's only hit, the Tigers getting their lone run in the third on two errors and a sacrifice fly.

Earlier in the week, the Orange and Black yielded a 9-7 decision to Temple at Philadelphia, six misplays contributing to the loss of a 3-1 lead that lasted into the sixth inning. The Tigers drew even at 6-all but could not hold the Owls, who are 27-8 on the year and Middle Atlantic Conference champions.

Three games remain this spring. New York University will be at Clarke Field Thursday at 3:30 and St. John's will come here Saturday for a doubleheader starting at 1.

STEINERT RAPS MOONEY

For 10-2 Victory. Steinert's baseball team showed why it is one of the leaders in Mercer County play this spring when it raked Princeton High's top pitcher, John Mooney, for 12 hits and a 10-2 victory. PHS which had not played since last Monday, lost its eighth in 10 outings; Steinert raised its record to 9-3-1.

The Little Tigers will be at Trenton High Friday and play host to Franklin Township Monday afternoon. East Brunswick is on tap for Tuesday in a make-up game.

The Spartans reached Mooney for four hits in the second inning and three runs, all they needed. All were solid shots, as were all Steinert's hits during the afternoon. PHS coach Don Blankenbush said that Mooney had pitched well but he tired as the game went on. No team, he agreed, had hit Mooney as hard as Steinert did.

In the third, PHS got two runs off starter Larry Povia who pitched four and two thirds innings before being relieved by Mike Bostay. Mike Carlucci led off with an infield single and after Greg Kline popped out, Bob Zlan-

Many sects of medicine developed during the next four hundred years after Hippocrates, and many new facts were discovered and utilized. In the first century A. D. cataract operations were performed. There are classical descriptions of operations for hernia, and some cults even knew how to control hemorrhages. Some two hundred surgical instruments have been excavated from the ruins of Pompeii in ancient Rome.

meister, who had batted over .600 in the past three games, beat out a perfect bunt, sending Carlucci to third.

Two for PHS. Jeff Galle's long fly to left sent Carlucci home with the first run. Following a wild pitch, Steve Kopp lined a single over first to drive in the second run. PHS never threatened again.

The visiting Spartans pecked away at Mooney, adding a single run in the fifth, two more in the sixth and four more in the final frame. The last hit was a two-run double by Mooney's counterpart, Bustay, who helted one over the centerfielder's head.

In the sixth, after Mooney had walked the first two batters he faced—his third and fourth free pass—third baseman Tom Dileo rifled a shot right at Mooney who got a glove on the ball only to deflect it past Carlucci at short. At that, Mooney threw up his hands in dismay—it was that kind of a day for the junior southpaw, who struck out eight.

Mooney, Jeff Drummond and Kline also had hits for PHS.

TWO MARKS FALL

For PHS in Track. The Princeton High School track team has little to show in dual meet competition this season but it does have the two best wright men in Mercer County.

Lou Drury set a new school mark in the discus in Thursday's meet with Hopewell Valley and on Saturday in the first Mercer County League Track and Field Meet at Ewing High School, Bill Alexander won the shot with a toss of 51 1¾.

Formerly known as the Jaycee Mercer County Invitational Track Meet, the Mercer County League is enjoying its first formal year and hence is limited now to schools within the County. All times and distances set Saturday will be considered new Mercer County League marks.

Alexander defeated Winnie Edwards of Hightstown in the shot for first place as teammate Drury took third with a toss of 49 2½. Edwards, however, emerged as one of the individual stars in the meet when he hurled the javelin 211 5¾ breaking the "old" county mark in the event of 206-10 set by Princeton High's Nick Kovalakides in 1956. Until Saturday, Nick's 17-year-old standard in the javelin had been the oldest County track record still in existence.

Drury finished second to Lawrence's Tom Mical in the discus with a 143-10 performance. Mike Coda ran his best time ever to come in third in the 880 (2:01.4) and Craig Carlton captured a fourth in the 440.

St. Anthony's Leon Lackey was the dominant performer in the meet, taking firsts in the 100, 220 and long jump. There were no team scores.

Drury: 154-8¼. Thursday, PHS lost its dual meet with Hopewell Valley, 77 to 54, but not before Drury set a new PHS record in the discus of 154-8 —which would have won him an easy first in the County Meet. It was a bad week for Kovalakides, whose record of 153-6 Drury bettered. That has bought off all challenges since 1957.

Drury was thus able to live up to his goal. When he first went out for the sport, he said that he intended to set a new goal in the shot or disc, coach Larry Ivan recalled.

In his first meet against Bridgewater Raritan, Lou tossed the discus 104 feet. "That's shows tremendous improvement," said Ivan.

Alexander won the shot and Drury took second against Hopewell Valley. Peter Nichols, who last week set a new PHS mark in the two mile, won that event. "He could lower the school record every time he steps on the track," predicted Ivan.

Andy Balster, who had been delayed joining the team because of his participation in competitive swimming, ran in his first meet, taking seconds in the low and high hurdles. Coda, taking over for Carlton who was locked into a job interview, won the 440, defeating Hopewell's fine quarter miler, Harold Driver.

Martin Willard, who finished a step behind Coda in the County Meet, led a PHS sweep of the 80. Rex Hay was second, Bill Frazier third. However, the Bulldogs came back to sweep the 100.

The meet was close until the final two events; the javelin and long jump. Hopewell took first in both including a second in the long jump to close with a rush. Princeton's dual meet record dropped to 3-5.

PHS LOSES IN TRACK

To Ewing, 86-45. Ewing's powerful track team (5-1) was "held" to 86 points Monday by visiting Princeton High School, which got most of its 45 points on some fine individual performances.

Co-captain Craig Carlton was the lone double winner for the Little Tigers. He won the 440 in 50.6—his best ever and .2 of a second off the school record. Then running in the 220 for the first time, he edged Ewing's Francis Hearns with a clocking of 23.0.

Sophomore Mark McLean came up with his best jump of the season to win the pole vault with 11.0. He just missed the 11.6 mark. Mike Coda won the 880 in 2.01.5 and Pete Nichols captured is speciality, the two mile, in 10:04.1.

Princeton's two standout weight men continued their supremacy in the shot and discus. Billy Alexander won the shot with a toss of 48-6, while Lou Drury took the disc with 148-5. Drury also gained a third in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.7.

Bill Frazier ran his best ever in the mile, posting a 4.43.7, but had to settle for second place. Freshman Fred Berkelhammer leaped 5-8 for a third in the high jump—his best jump so far. Ewing's Hollis Copeland, tops in the County, won the event with a 6-3 effort.

PHS GIRLS ON TOP

In County Softball League. A pair of lopsided victories last week 33-2 over Trenton and 27-10 over Lawrence—increased the Princeton High School girls softball team's record to 4-1 in the Mercer County League, and earned it first place.

This marks the first year for a county championship and state tournament in girls softball. Over all, the team is 6-3.

Against Trenton, Sue Wright pitched a fine game and homered. Infielders Anne Roberts, Rhonda MacPherson and Martha Dorgan combined to convert a pop fly into a triple play.

Against Lawrence, outfielders Mary Ellen Froehlich, Janet Helms and Kathy Froehlich played errorless ball. Catcher Pam Bernsten had her best game by throwing out a number of runners attempting to steal.

TENNIS LEAGUE BEGUN For Women. The Princeton Recreation Department is interested in establishing a ladies tennis league. The league will not be highly competitive, but will provide a vehicle for good recreational tennis matches.

Those interested in playing should call the recreation office at 921-9480 between 9 and 5 on weekdays and leave the following information: Name, address and telephone number. 1st, 2nd and 3rd choice of time slots (Time slots are Tuesday Friday at either 9 a.m. or 10:30 a.m.), some indication of your calibre of play; some indication of the months that will be available during the summer.

If a league does develop, Monday's time slots will be designated as informal Ladies Round Robin for those tennis players who are new in town and want to meet prospective players or improve their tennis game.

Deadline date for signing up is May 22. There will be no specific cost for playing the league. All daily admission rates will be in effect.

ACTION POSTPONED On NJSIAA Regulation. Last week the Princeton Regional School board asked fellow boards across the state to impose government regulation on the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The School Boards Association, which is comprised of delegates from the 603 boards throughout the state, held its semi annual meeting Saturday in New Brunswick and referred Princeton's resolution to committee. The SBA said that it would either act on the resolution or make recommendation at its next meeting in December.

After the NJSIAA had barred the Princeton High School basketball team from participation in state tournament play last winter, the Princeton School Board petitioned the N.J. Education Department to review its case. It also sought the backing of the SBA to make the NJSIAA subject to department regulation.

In charging that the NJSIAA the lone regulator of sports and athletics from public schools throughout the state, had "deprived the team of a valuable educational experience" when it barred the PHS basketball team, the Princeton School Board further charged that the NJSIAA, "as a private organization is not competent to make the administrative and quasi-judicial decisions necessary for the proper regulation of school sports."

Princeton would like to see governmental regulation of the NJSIAA including "research, public relations, legislative or administrative activity, intervention in pending legal proceedings or such other actions as may be desirable."

FINAL WEEK AHEAD For PHS Lacrosse Team. Games with Fair Lawn and Newton this week will bring the season to an end for the Princeton High School lacrosse team.

JANE FRAZIER, PHS freshman, won the 880 last week in the track meet with New Brunswick High School. Her time: 2:40.9.

The Little Tigers will oppose Fair Lawn Thursday at 3:45 at Community Park and will end their season Tuesday at Newton. Originally, PHS was scheduled to have opened against Fair Lawn but the contest was postponed because of bad weather.

A breakdown in defense cost PHS dearly last week, as it lost in visiting Hanover Park Saturday, 12-4, and 12-0 to Peddie on Thursday. The setbacks dropped PHS to 3-6.

The first period against Hanover Park was scoreless. "We were playing well," commented coach Marvin Trotman. "But then we seemed to fall apart. We stopped playing good defense."

Hanover Park went on to score the net for six goals in the second period. Mike Nulliner, Bob McKinsey, Mark Canoball and Jim Baxter scored for PHS.

PHS had more than just a game to Peddie. Muddy John Figueroa was lost for the season when he was hit hard and sustained a long injury.

In the past three games PHS has been outscored, 33-5. Overall, the defiet is 64-40.

PHS NETMEN WIN FAIR OF 5-0 Victories. The Princeton High School tennis team increased its record to 8-2 last week with a 5-0 bulout over Hopewell Valley Friday and a similar blanking of Notre Dame earlier.

Next on tap for the state tournament bound Little Tigers is the annual Mercer County Tournament this weekend where they are the defending champions. On Monday, PHS will play at Hun School.

Dick Broad, Nick Van de Walle and David Low all won singles matches against the Hopewell Bulldogs. Barry Maritz and Bob MacDougald topped the number one doubles, and Dan Stuhlman team ed with Jean Van OeWalle to take the second doubles.

HUN NINE ROLLS ON Qualifies for State Tournament. Weather has raised hob with his pitchers' rotation but nothing else has gone wrong for Hun baseball coach Bill McQuade.

A 4-1 victory over Pingry Friday was the big Hun win. It qualified Hun for the State Prep School tournament, where it is the defending champion. Hun will oppose Admiral Farragut in the first round on Monday and Peddie will meet Lawrenceville. The winners will then vie for the championship.

Saturday, a letdown after the Pingry win almost cost Hun victory over George erlier his sesnn, 12-2. After filing behind 3-0, Hun emerged on top on 4-3 victory - is enh in 11 srs.

A wo-run blow by Biff Hollowell and a triple by Greg Rafalski were the key hits that made a winner out of Hun hurler Dave Clark. Clark, making his first start in weeks after trying to overcome a sore arm, is 1-1.

"We were lucky to come back, we almost lost that one," said McQuade.

Games with Farragut, Blair Academy and a makeup game with Pennington are on tap for Hun next week. A victory over Pennington would clinch the championship of the northern division of the Penn-Jersey League.

A pair of triples by Rafalski that drove in three runs were the difference in Hun's victory over Pingry. Dave Pone's double was also one of Hun seven hits.

Paul Creamer, who held Pingry to four hits, won his rights without a setback. Rafalski, co-captain of the team along with Creamer, now has seven triples, four doubles and a home run. "There's no question that Greg's the one who has been carrying the big bat for us," said McQuade.

PROFITS RAISED

At Applied Data Research, Applied Data Research, Inc., of Princeton has reported operating revenues of $2,402,209 for the first quarter ending March 31, before tax earnings of $110,802, and a net profit of $56,287 or 5 cents per share. This compares with operating revenues of $2,058,603 and a net profit of $13,590 or 1 cent per share for the similar period in 1972.

John R. Bennett, ADR president, said that operating revenues represented the highest first quarter in the company's history and, as reported previously, the second consecutive quarter in which software product sales exceeded $1 million. Sales of STAR, the company's hardware product, accounted for more than $300,000 in installations during the quarter. In addition to the encouraging growth in business backlogs, Mr. Bennett noted continued improvement in its other operating divisions.

EARNINGS RECORD SET

By Mathematica, Mathematica, Inc. achieved record revenues and earnings for the nine month period ended March 31.

Net income was $384,500, equal to $.54 per common and common equivalent share. This compares with net income of $308,500, equal to $.44 per share, for the year ago period. Revenue was $7,472,500, compared to $6,257,100 a year ago.

These results represent a 25 percent increase in net income and a 19 percent increase in revenues from the year earlier figures, which have been restated to include Educational Coordinates, Inc., an educational consulting firm acquired by Mathematica in December 1972.

"Because of the seasonal nature of the business of Educational Coordinates, which peaks in the first and last quarters of the fiscal year while operating at a loss in the second and third quarters, the nine-month figures do not fully reflect expected full-year results," noted Dr. Fabian. "We have not changed our previously announced earnings goal of $.80 per share for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973."

NEW SALESMAN ADDED

Telephone operators never lose their cool.

☐ True ☑ False

Telephone operators are people like everyone else. Subject to good and bad days, human frailties, everyday aches and pains.

And because they are, some occasionally lose their cool. While that's the exception and not the rule, when it happens, no one likes it.

Most are dedicated and committed to helping each and every customer. When they complete a call, telephone operators want to feel assured that they've done everything possible to satisfy you. Whether it's a routine connection or an emergency call.

Since the telephone operator is probably your primary contact with the phone company, his or her standards automatically reflect ours. That's a pretty big responsibility. And our operators know it. They also know that people expect more from the telephone company. So being good isn't good enough.

763. Revenues increased by 38 percent over the corresponding period a year ago, when a loss was incurred of $320,800 or 19 cents per share.

The company said that major factors contributing to these improvements are:

- An extension to the contract with the Department of the Navy for software conversion which originally would have expired in Feb., 1973.
- Continued growth in revenues from the financial business segment.

- New contracts for BASIS, which are evidence of a broader acceptance of the Company's automated programming techniques.
- The contract with NASA, for the use of one of the Company's time-sharing systems, extended for the third time for a period of six months from May to October, 1973.

For these reasons, the company expects the current growth trend to continue, which should result in increased profits during the balance of the current fiscal year. Applied Logic operates a nationwide time-sharing network and provides software services. Its securities are traded over the counter.

TO CARE FOR YOUR CAR

"Medicar" Merges. The mobile car and truck servicing firm known as Medicar has merged with its parent company, Prestige Motor Car Systems, Inc. to form a consolidated corporation trading as "Top Wrench."

Medicar was started a year ago to take its "garages on wheels" auto company parking lots so that subscribers' cars could be serviced while the subscriber is at work. Because of confusion with the name Medicare, the Prestige subsidiary decided on a name change, and the new company will now be "Top Wrench."

A full range of on-the-pad automotive and truck services may be obtained through the firm. Mobile units of Top Wrench have advanced electronic instruments which can do anything from simple tune jobs, to electronic diagnosis and major tune-ups, besides infra-red emission control checking.

The company's founder and president is E. John Gwynn, formerly a clergyman on the staff of Trinity Church in Princeton. Mr. Gwynn founded the company to provide training and employment for members of minority groups. Prestige Motor Car Systems, now three years old, provides long term auto leasing.

Top Wrench presently operates out of headquarters in Hamilton Township. Further information about its services may be obtained by calling 882-1700.

PDS WINS 7-3

Over PHS in Lacrosse. Playing air-tight defense, controlling the ball, and taking unerring advantage of opponents' penalties, Princeton Day School trounced Princeton High School's varsity lacrosse team 7-3 Monday.

The win runs the Panthers' season record to 8-3, equalling the previous season - high achieved two years ago, and earned them the right to play Summit Lacrosse Club for the State "B" championships on May 26 at Newark State College.

Earlier, the Blue and White beat Rutgers Prep 19-2, for the second victory of the year, and dropped a two-goal 5-3 decision to George School, the second time George has won this season.

Against PHS, the Day School played three quarters of controlled lacrosse, lapsing only in the second period. The Panthers scored three goals in the first quarter, Middie John Bragg got the first of his three for the day with only a couple of minutes gone, with PHS a man down. Freshman Tommy Moore got the second, also with a man down, and Bragg added his second before the period ended.

PDS penalties put PHS in contention during the second period, as Bobby Weinbecker scored a pair and Jim Bolster got another while PDS had men in the penalty box. PDS middie Ted Dowey drilled a 20-footer to keep the lead for the Panthers.

The Day School defense and middies combined to put the lid on the high school shooters in the second half, allowing only four shots on goalie Dave Barach and no goals. The Panthers ran up their lead on Bragg's third goal, another by Peter Moore, and a goal by Cam Ferrante, who dodged five PHS defenders before popping in a high left-handed shot.

The Panthers ran up a 9-1 first goal lead against Rutgers Prep Friday, then played tight ball for three quarters in the 19-2 win. Grayson Ferrante, who hit the pipe five times in the first match against Rutgers, scored a hat trick. Dowey, Cam Ferrante, Peter Moore, Tim Hamid, Bragg and freshman Bill Erdman each scored a pair in the rout.

The Panthers were hoping to make it two in a row over Hun this Wednesday, and play Pedricks "B" team at Hightstown, Friday.

PDS WINS 2 OF 3

In Tennis. In their busiest week of the season, Princeton Day School's boys' varsity tennis team won two team matches, dropped a third, and left the still unfinished Penn-Jersey championship tourney deadlocked with George School.

The Panther netmen squeaked by George last Thursday as George's Dick Kemp took Ron Bash 6-3, 6-4 in first singles, and PDS' Chris Miller dropped a long two-set third singles match to John Hoffman, 6-4, 10-8.

Greg Bash took the second singles 6-3, 6-4. Buzz Woodworth and Steve Norris took first doubles 6-2, 6-2, and Jamie Paterson and Dave Straut came back after dropping the first set to win the second doubles match 4-6, 6-4, 7-6.

Friday the Panthers shut out Pennington School 5-0, playing only two sets that were even close.

The Penn-Jersey championships didn't end Saturday, but in the final rounds that remain to be played it ends up as a repay of Thursday's PDS - George match. Finals will be scheduled by the two school's coaches.

Princeton High School took PDs rather handily Monday, winning 4-1 on the PDS courts.

PHS NETMEN WIN, 4-1

Over Rival PDS. Princeton High coach Bill Humes predicted that the tennis match with Princeton Day School would end 3-2 and would be settled by the doubles play. He was wrong on both counts.

The Little Tigers had surprisingly little trouble in sweeping both doubles in straight sets. Freshmen Dan Shulman and Dan Aronovic defeated Dave Straut and Jamie Patterson, 6-3, 6-1, while the number 1 doubles of Randy Thomas and Rob McDougald topped Steve Norris and Buss Woodworth of PDS, 6-3, 6-3.

When Greg Bash stopped Nick VandeWalle, 6-1, 7-5 in singles play, PHS had a 2-1 edge, leaving the outcome hanging on the final two singles. Humes called the battle between David Loy and Chris Miller the "pivotal match."

The Panthers' Miller took the first set 6-3, but lost the next two to Loy, an Australian resident, 8-6, 6-4. Dick Broad, number 1 singles for PHS, also won his match with Evan Bash in three sets, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4. PDS lost its second in eight matches. PHS won its ninth against two setbacks.

Stickmen Lose. Playing adjacent to the PDS courts, the PHS lacrosse team was continuing its descent with a 7-3 loss to PDS.

After the Panthers had scored four goals in the first period, PHS came back with two in the second on a pair of goals by Bobby Weinbecker. Jim Bolster had opened the scoring for PHS with a goal in the first period.

The Panthers (8-3), however, held PHS scoreless in the second half to send the Little Tigers home with their fourth consecutive loss.

HUN NINE STOPPED

By Lawrenceville. Winner of 10 of its first 11 games, the Hun Baseball team was stopped Monday by Lawrenceville 7-2.

Winning pitcher Scott Coolidge limited Hun to four hits, including a home run by Greg Rafalski, and struck out nine. His counterpart, Hun's Paul Cremmer, suffered his first loss after winning eight straight.

Glenn Willard paced the Lawrence attack with three hits, driving in three runs. Hun committed three errors, while Lawrenceville was perfect in the field.

JR OLYMPICS SATURDAY

At Palmer Stadium. The AAU Junior Olympic Regional Championships will be held Saturday morning at Palmer Stadium, starting at 10.

Members of the Princeton Recreation Team will be vying with teams from Phillipsburg, Bridgewater, Springfield, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. Winners will advance to the state meet to be held June 9 in Elizabeth. This is the first year that Princeton has been host for the regional event.

Prince Chevrolet has donated funds for ribbons and medals.

GIRLS LOSE 2 IN TRACK

Sectionals Saturday. The Princeton High girls track team lost a pair of dual meets last week, performed well in the Long Branch Relays, and is getting ready for Saturday's NJSIAA sectional meet to be held at Monmouth College.

PHS is competing in the Group 3 Southern Division. The top five northern and southern winners will meet the following week in the state finals to be held at Ocean.

News Of The CHURCHES

CELEBRATIONS SET

For Lawrenceville Anniversary. The Presbyterian Church of Lawrenceville will celebrate its 275th anniversary Sunday.

Services of Recommitment at 9:30 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. with the Rev. Dana Fearon officiating, and a choir concert of 17th century music at 4:00 p.m. will begin a series of celebrations to commemorate the 1698 authorization of the church.

The congregation's history began with a deed which conveyed land ". . . for the erecting of a meeting house. . ." to 29 early settlers of Maidenhead (now Lawrenceville) in 1698. Since that time, the church played a role in the Revolutionary War, presided over the beginnings of the Lawrenceville School, and has been "mother church" for a number of Presbyterian churches in the area.

Plans and photographs of the sanctuary, the front portion of which was built in 1764, are preserved in the Library of Congress because of the "exceptional historical and architectural interest" of this small, white colonial style church.

The 800 member congregation will continue its celebrations during the year with an anniversary dinner dance on June 15th, a public house tour of old Lawrenceville homes on September 29, and a homecoming reunion on October 27th.

A new edition of the history of the church, "The Presbyterian Church of Lawrenceville, New Jersey," will be published in the fall in observance of the 275th anniversary.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By Interfaith Group. The Princeton Interfaith Council, convening at its annual meeting at the Mt. Pisgah African Methodist Church, has elected officers for the coming year.

The Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer, Christ Congregation, president; the Rev. Ronald Dyson, United Methodist, vice president; Wesley W. Wallon, First Presbyterian, corresponding secretary; Miss B. Braxton Preston, Trinity Episcopal, recording secretary; Norman Rubin, Jewish Center, treasurer; the Rev. S. James Steem, Trinity Episcopal, and Sister Mary Vida, St. Paul's Roman Catholic, members at large on the executive committee.

METHODISTS EXPAND

Services to Elderly. The Princeton Methodist Church will hold the last of its evening social hours for the elderly residents of Lloyd Terrace Tuesday, at 8 p.m. The final luncheon at Lloyd Terrace will be Saturday, May 26, at noon.

The church began its ministry at Lloyd Terrace and at other low-income housing units for the elderly last September. Olive Haynes, who graduates this month from the Princeton Theological Seminary, coordinated the church's efforts as part of her seminary field work.

Next September two Seminarians, Mary Margaret Thiel and Susan Vogt, will be assigned to the church and, United Methodist plans to expand its activities to include a drop-in center at the church for elderly persons. The church will also continue this year's activities: the monthly socials and luncheons, visitations of the ill, and transportation services for those persons wishing to go shopping or visit the doctor.

WORKSHOP PLANNED

By Pennington Presbyterians. The Pennington Presbyterian Church will conduct a four week workshop in the creative arts, based on the Book of Acts, Chapter 2, to prepare for the celebration of the Pentecost, marking the birthday of the Christian church.

Beginning Sunday, May 20, from 9:55-10:50 a.m., the time of the regular church school, workshops will be conducted in four areas: music, dance and drama, crafts, and photography.

The classes will continue through June 10. The Pentecost service will be Sunday, June 17 at 9:30 a.m.

WOMEN'S DAY SET

At First Baptist. The First Baptist Church will celebrate its annual women's day Sunday, May 20, at the 11 a.m. service. Speaker will be Mrs. Jennie E. Hall of Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Hall is vice-president of the Baptist Women's Convention in Washington, dean of the Education Department of the National Association of Minister's Wives, and editor of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention. She is a member of the Federation of Negro Women, and of the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church in Washington.

A graduate of the Williams Academy of Education and of the Christian School of Washington, Mrs. Hall also attended Howard University.

Vacation Bible School for children 4 to 12 will be held June 18 through 24 at Westerly Road Church. Hours: 9-11:30 a.m. All children are welcome to the program, which will include games, handicrafts, Bible study, and refreshments. For registration call 924-3816.

BULLETIN NOTES

First Presbyterians will conduct a walking tour of the Princeton Cemetery Monday, May 28, at 4 p.m. The group will meet at the superintendent's house near the Greenview Avenue entrance to the cemetery. Guides will be Mr. and Mrs. William K. Evans and Elmer E. Chase.

The Rev. William Kight, Princeton's street minister who has resigned to become director of youth ministries at Riverside Church in New York, was honored at a farewell service Sunday. The title of the blunt and outspoken Rev. Kight's sermon: "I'm Telling You for the Last Time."

Township High School. PHS coach Lamont Fletcher said that he expects at least a half dozen Little Tigers to advance to the state meet.

The final dual meet will be Wednesday at 3:45 against visiting Brick Township. This Wednesday, the team was scheduled to be at Franklin Township.

On Monday, host Toms River North proved to be too strong again for PHS, defeating the Little Tigers, 67-47. "Actually, we did better than I expected," said Fletcher. "Our biggest problem continues to be lack of depth. We get our share of firsts but not enough seconds and thirds."

Diane Westover won the 440 in 61.2 — a new PHS record. Karen Herzog won the hurdles. Deni Bullock the 100, Cathy Woodridge the mile in a fine 5:38 and Frances Walstad the 880. It was the first time that Walstad, a quarter-miler, had run the half mile, Fletcher reported. Freshman Jane Frazier was a close second.

PHS also won the 880 relay and medley relay but fell behind in the weight and field events.

A First at Long Branch. PHS entered two relay teams in the annual Long Branch Relays Saturday and came home with a first in the mile and seven-eighths event.

"We won it without much trouble; we had a 50 to 75 yard lead all the way," said Fletcher. PHS, which had won the same event two years ago, bettered the times of 16 other schools.

Diane Westover ran the 880 leg, Karen Winn the 440, Deni Bullock the 220 and Cathy Woodbridge the mile.

Despite a "tremendous leg" by Karen Herzog, PHS finished fifth in the mile relay. It was Karen's first attempt at running the quarter mile, Fletcher said. Also running were Walstad, Sandy Cobb and Frazier.

Earlier in the week, PHS was defeated, 73-41, by New Brunswick. Princeton's lone first in the field events was by Cobb in the high jump. She leaped 4-6.

Capturing firsts in the racing events were Bullock, Herzog, Westover, Frazier and Woodbridge. Princeton's dual meet record is 4-3.

DID YOU KNOW...
That laundering shortens the life of knits?
Tests conducted by the Department of Commerce show that polyesters, the most common knit fabrics, wear out three times as fast as when dry cleaned.
And, in appearance the case against washing is even more apparent. Washing so-called washable knits makes the color dull and the appearance limp. Furthermore, housewives who toss them into a washing machine risk other disasters: oily stains not removed may be set by the heat of the water; some knitted garments may require different water temperatures and drying procedures and cannot be washed or dried at the same time; and failure to remove garments from the dryer at the right time may set wrinkles which are almost impossible to remove.
SINCE KNITS DO NOT WEIGH VERY MUCH, IT IS EASY TO DRY CLEAN A LOT OF PIECES INEXPENSIVELY. MOST PIECES WILL NOT NEED PRESSING.

The buildings of ancient cities were usually one story, one family houses. These usually contained the family workshop as well as the family residence. Surprisingly enough, even in places as ancient as Mesopotamia, cities were carefully laid out with well planned streets and provisions for sewage disposal and piping water supplies. Today, cities are ever changing; and yet the basic needs of the people still serve as the best pattern for city development.
